42 home rooms in parade; King-Queen nominations made

Each year the Homecoming parades of Arlington Heights township high school become more spectacular and this year's parade will be no exception, as it glides through the streets of Arlington Heights October 20.

Floats galore, one from each of the 42 homerooms, are being constructed with the utmost secrecy and won't be brought out into the open until the day of the parade. Other highlights will include a special police escort by Chief Carl H. Skoog, and a color guard made up of men from the local National Guard unit.

THE CORONATION of the Homecoming king and queen will take place just before the step-off at 1 p.m. Nominations for candidates were held Monday by the seniors. The following are up for election: Diane Ashe, Marilyn Franke, Junia Grimm, Barbara LaMar, Patti Ryden, Elaine Skadberg, Jim Blackburn, Bob Evans, Bob Fasick, George Kovacik, Bob Packard, and Bob Schulze.

All candidates will be presented to the student body at a special assembly next Monday and the election will take place Wednesday. The identity of the king and queen will be kept a secret until just before the parade.

Line of march: assemble on Walnut ave. at high school; E. on Euclid to Vail, S. on Vail to Sigwalt, E. on Sigwalt to Evergreen, N. on Evergreen to Wing, E. on Wing to State, N. on State to Euclid, and W. on Euclid to high school.

PRIZE WINNING floats, along with the king and queen will be presented between games Friday night when the fighting Cardinals battle for a winning homecoming game with Niles.

The traveling loving cup and plaques will be awarded to the winning homeroom floats, the number of the homeroom being engraved on each. Judging will be based on the following: originality, 25 points; punch and action, 25 points; beauty, 25 points; and workmanship, 25 points.

Homecoming week will offer many special events, such as color day, October 19, when all the faculty and students will wear red and white combinations in their clothes, a victory bonfire, which will be held following the game Friday, and the annual "A" club homecoming dance to be held in the high school gym Saturday night.

2 high school boys held to criminal court

Editor's note: It is against the policy of this paper to publish the names of first offenders but the public has the right to know evidence presented at the preliminary hearing given Tuesday night in Judge Neumann's Court and the present status of the case.

Arlington Heights council chamber was packed Tuesday evening when two boys, who were members of the 1950 senior class of the Arlington Heights High school were given a preliminary hearing before Judge Neumann. They are charged with burglary by force on two counts and both pleaded guilty to the charge. The charge against the two youths was prosecuted by Russell Behrens, an assistant state's attorney.

The majority of the spectators were schoolmates of the boys. The boys had admitted that on October 22, 1949 they had forcibly entered their own school where they damaged the school vault and had taken $95. Approximate damage to the vault was $150.

CONFESSIONS previously made, included admission that on Feb. 10, 1950 they had broken into the Hummel & Downing Co. factory, 1430 E. Davis st., Arlington Heights, and had taken $40 from a safe. The company claims that damages amounted to $300. The total loss and damage caused by the action of the boys is placed at $590.

The boys waived questioning as they had no information to give, other than their confessions.

F. S. Hinz, Des Plaines, manager of the Hummel & Downing plant said that one of the boys had been in his employ. LeRoy J. Knoeppel, high school principal, testified as to damage done at the school. The two men and Chief Skoog identified pictures taken by the police after the robberies.

Chief Skoog and Officer Johnson took the boys to the criminal court Wednesday morning. The states attorney's office has recommended bail bonds be set at $1500. Further action against the youths will depend upon the action of the grand jury.

SPONSOR FIRE PREVENTION CAMPAIGN SIX WEEKS

Arlington Heights Firemen do not believe that fire prevention should only be a one-week campaign and starting this week it is sponsoring a series of special cartoons extending over a six week period.

The cartoons will appear each week on page three.

6 Masonic grand officers attend centennial

There were well over 600 at the 100th anniversary celebration held at the Wheeling Consolidated school by the Masons of Vitruvius Lodge. One of the many things of interest which occurred at this celebration, and which happens very seldom, was that all six of the elected Grand Officers were present. Almost every Deputy of Grand Masters of all surrounding lodges were also there.

All the Grand Officers visited the Lodge Hall. Only once before, as far as Ray Lesch, Worshipful Master, could recollect, was there a Grand Officer in the lodge hall and last Saturday all of them were there.

It was quite an experience for them also, because this is the only lodge hall that still has many of the old fashioned appurtenances for conducting their meetings, such as real candles for their ceremonies, an old coal and wood burning stove for heating the hall, etc.

Even the lodge hall walls had a "hallowed" air. Within its small confines the grandfathers and great grandfathers of some of the present Masonic members had taken part in Masonic ritual of their day. Their spirits seemed to be there as the grand officers of the State of Illinois paid honor that day to the founders of Vitruvius lodge.

The opening of the centennial program was impressive and beautiful as Dorothy Drinkwater sang the national anthem. The statute of Liberty portrayed by Shirley Ward, occupied the center of the platform, while at each side were representatives of the army, marine, air force and navy.

The speakers of the evening, with Harry Talcott as master of ceremonies, occupied seats in the foreground of the stage with grand officers and Vitruvius Lodge officers in the background.

Benjamin E. Patton, M. W. Grandmaster introduced his officers and W. M. Lesch similarly introduced his officers.

The Rev. John B. Hubbard, a veteran speaker at public meetings, held the closest attention of his audience in a 30 minute address that carried a potent message to his hearers.

J. Grunst, lodge organist, had the privilege of presenting his accordion orchestra that evening in its first commercial appearance. It had previously played at minor civic affairs.

The members are Mary Gloden, Delores Mueller, Marilyn Witzke, Shirley Fey, Geno Fritze, Rollin Heckenbach, assisted by Marilyn Mulso with her Hawaiian steel guitar and Arthur Masek with his drums.

Maryann Loeffler was the soloist and added to the effectiveness and enjoyment of the music by the crowd of dancers.

"This 100th anniversary of Vitruvius lodge is now past history," says Worshipful Master Lesch, "and much as we love that old hall which has been its home so many years, our thoughts must necessarily turn sooner or later to a new home."

The evening was "topped-off" with refreshments served cafeteria style in the basement by members of the Eastern Star.

Proposed new South Side School Site

Questions that might be asked by the public regarding the need for an additional south side school site are answered below from information furnished by the Board of Education of School Dist. No. 25.

1. Why a new site?

Enrollment in the south school kindergarten and first five grades (excluding Junior High School) grew from 243 in 1947-48 to 412 at the beginning of 1950-51. Two hundred thirty-three building permits have been issued on the south side since January 1 of this year, indicating increased pupil population.

2. Why not build on the present south side site?

The present elementary school on the south side is a complete unit. The newly-completed Junior High school on the same site is so planned that additions to it may be added when needed. The site should be kept for the expansion of the Junior High school which serves the whole district.

3. Why the location?

The Board has been studying this problem for a year. The proposed location meets the need where it exists. It will be serving pupils south of Northwest Highway and east of State road.

4. Where is it located?

The proposed site is located east of Dietrich farm, south of Rockwell and east of Dryden. The area is approximately five acres.

5. What is the cost?

This property may be acquired for the sum of $8750. This is the only available site in the area at acreage price. Other sites considered by the Board ran over $30,000.

6. How will the site be paid for?

The site can be paid for out of the current building fund balance. No bond issue will be necessary.

7. Who owns the site?

The owners of the proposed site are Joseph L. LaRose, Antoinette LaRose, Joseph Garafolo and Ethel Garafolo.

8. What about a site on the north side?

The district has a site in Arlington Ridge, previously dedicated for school purposes by the developer upon which a school can be erected when the need arises.

Final plans laid for Hallowe'en window painting in Arlington Heights

Final plans are materializing for the Hallowe'en window painting contest and the sixth, seventh and eighth grade boys and girls in all the Arlington Heights schools are busily planning their sketches.

The windows will be painted Saturday morning, October 28, between nine o'clock and twelve o'clock with paint which will be furnished by the Arlington Heights Chamber of Commerce. The drawings will be colorful in contrast to those of a year ago, for five or six colors will be used.

SPECIFIC RULES for the contest are as follows:

1. Students in 6th, 7th and 8th grades are eligible to participate.
2. The competition will be divided into three groups:
   a. Eighth grade.
   b. Seventh grade.
   c. Sixth grade.

   Spaces will be labelled a, b, or c with a number in order to indicate the grade of the participants.
3. Students will work in pairs and will be assigned a window space by their school preceding the day of the drawing.
4. Window spaces will be assigned by the Chamber of Commerce to each school system on the basis of contestants registered.
5. The spaces will be approximately 4 feet wide and 4 feet high.
6. ALL DRAWINGS will be made with paint to be provided to the Junior High by the Chamber of Commerce before the day of drawing. The paint will be distributed to all contestants from the Junior High School art room the morning of the drawing. Contestants may use the west door to enter the Junior High between 8 and 9 o'clock on Saturday morning of October 28. The west door opens onto the driveway which goes out to Mitchell ave.

   Each pair will furnish their own brushes, mixing pan for paints, can of water, rag or cloth, and newspapers to cover the sidewalk below the window to catch drippings.

   Please note that no drawing will be judged unless the contestants have cleaned up the papers and any other equipment used in the painting from in front of their window.
7. Identification of all drawings will be by the number assigned to the space only. No signature on drawings will be allowed.
8. All drawings will be done between the hours of 9 a. m. and 12 noon Saturday, October 28. Judging will be done by competent judges and all winning drawings will be marked with an appropriate ribbon.
9. STANDARDS for judging shall be:
   a. Originality.
   b. Composition.
   c. Quality of drawing.

Crash and fire take lives of two drivers

Richard Weyers, an employee of Illinois Bell Telephone Co., working out of the Arlington Heights garage of that company, was one of the first persons to arrive at the scene of the gasoline and oil fire at the intersection of routes 62, 63 and 59, southwest of Barrington Monday afternoon that took the lives of two truck drivers, the bodies of both of whom were burned almost beyond identification.

Weyers arrived at the scene a few seconds after the crash. After parking his car out of danger he ran to the scene of the accident as with a mighty roar 5500 gallons of gasoline burst into flames engulfing an oil truck belonging to Roncho Oil Service and a semi-trailer gasoline truck owned by the Fiore Oil Co., of Madison. A large part of the gasoline flowed down route 59, carrying flames with it.

One of the drivers of two cars waiting at a stop sign drove to a neighboring farm house and phoned the police, and Barrington and East Dundee fire departments. Barrington sent two trucks to the scene.

The two drivers, who met almost instant death by the accident or flames were Joseph Roncho, 38, residing at Cedar and Ardmore sts., Addison township and Edward Ellis Harper, 45, of 151 W. Gilman st., Madison.

"The sight was so terrible that those who witnessed the accident could hardly give details to investigating police," says Weyers. "We knew where the two were lying, but we could do nothing to save them."

The fire in Roncho's truck was extinguished without much difficulty but the burning gasoline in the large truck blazed several hours.

Highwaymen spread sand on the pavements before vehicle traffic could be resumed at nine o'clock that night.

Oil sprayed a station wagon of a driver who was at the stop sign, but did not catch fire.

Unlawful to burn leaves on pavement

Arlington Heights police department is issuing a warning this week to all citizens that it is unlawful to burn leaves on pavements. Anyone violating this law will be prosecuted.

Canvassing board to spend 2 days culling unqualified registrations

Election officials were surprised Tuesday by the number of last minute voting registrations in Wheeling township. The total is 1270.

Voting precinct two, north of the village of Arlington Heights and west of Arlington Heights road was high with 152 new registrations. Prospect Heights was second with 122 and No. 5, comprising the four blocks between Chestnut and Dunton, was third with 101.

The figures are:

Precinct	New names	Transfers
1	29	10
2	152	22
3	90	14
4	72	35
5	101
6	62	19
7	45	10
8	38	5
9	89
10	147	17
11	34	33
12	99	5
13	122
14	77	11
15	63	20

The Democratic and Republican canvassers have been busy the past month checking on registrations in an effort to remove the cards of those who have moved out of the precinct, etc. It is estimated that full 600 will be taken off the registration lists Wednesday and Thursday by the registration boards on information given to them.

ELK GROVE township reports 280 new registrations received Tuesday. They are divided between the several precincts as follows:

Prect.	New Voters	Trans.
1	37	4
2	32	9
3	55	15
4	83	6
5	73	7

New registrations in Palatine township Tuesday totaled 677. The Inverness polling place led with 199 with the Masonic Hall precinct second with 145.

The new voters in each of the precincts are: No. 1, 56; 2, 46; 3, 199; 4, 46; 5, 78; 6, 145; 7, 87.

It is estimated by party chieftans that there are between 800 and 900 more voters in Palatine township than at the time of the primary election last April. "It is evident that the public is interested in the coming November election," says T. C. Hart.

Two million copies of the proposed Gateway amendment to the constitution of Illinois have been mailed to registered voters throughout Cook county. Both parties recognize the importance of the amendment and unless voters become so interested in the individual candidates for office that they neglect to vote on the amendment, the proposed change provided in the amendment will be carried.

Under the so-called Gateway Amendment to be submitted on a separate ballot November 7, the Illinois Constitution could be amended by a majority of those voting in an election instead of the majority of those registered. The Gateway Amendment would permit submission of three amendments at one time to the voters instead of a single amendment as is now possible.

The amendment campaign has received substantial support from the leaders of the Republican and of the Democratic parties.

ELMHURST MAN PAYS $200 FINE IN NEUMAN'S COURT

The Elmhurst business man, who molested an Arlington Heights 14 year old girl, recently, was fined $200 and costs by Judge Neumann. An additional fine of $3 was assessed for violation of state vehicle law.

Tuesday evening the judge handled eight traffic cases. Fines varied from $4 to $30. The $30 fine was inflicted for a second offense. He was charged with going 60 miles an hour in a 30 mile zone. Another fine of $31 was imposed for disorderly conduct.

Rural fire district picks Mt. Prospect, Wheeling fireman

Trustees of Wheeling township rural fire protection district have completed negotiations for fire protection, with Wheeling and Mt. Prospect rural firemen slated to serve the area.

Line of demarcation between the areas served by the two departments starts at State and Hintz roads, goes east of Elmhurst road, south to Palatine road, east to the Soo line tracks, thence south to McDonald road, and east to the township line.

The area south of this line excepting Prospect Heights, will be served by Mt. Prospect firemen, while Wheeling will serve the area north of the line.

FIRE CHIEFS GIESEKE of Wheeling and Biermann of Mt. Prospect will get together soon to work out a mutual exchange of equipment in event of emergency, plus a uniform system of alarm.

Several applications of border areas for admission to the district have been received by the trustees. Though such applications are being favorably considered, definite action has not been taken to date, according to the group's legal counsel, Francis E. Kelly of Palatine.

A hearing will be held in the county court Nov. 2 on the petition of several subdivision areas to be annexed to Prospect Heights Rural Fire Protection District, notice for which appears in this issue. Among the areas taken are Prospect Meadows, Wedgewood Terrace, and Countryside acres.

Practically all farming area is omitted. Until this time the newly built up subdivision territory northeast of Arlington Heights has been in the orphan class so far as fire protection is concerned.

Arlington man instantly killed by streamliner

Dan F. Meyer, 70, 315 N. Dunton, Arlington Heights, was instantly killed at 7:19 Wednesday evening when the Dakota "400" hit him at the Dunton street crossing. Remains were taken to the Black Memorial Home. Identification could not be ascertained because of the mutilation of the body until after papers in his pocket were examined. He was employed by Meyer & Wente of Chicago.

IT IS PRESUMED that if he heard the coming train, he did not correctly judge its speed. The gateman at the crossing told police that he saw Meyer running.

Vince Mayer, who also resides at 315 N. Dunton, told a reporter that he had supper with him a short time previous to the accident and that Meyer did not appear to be in good health.

Arlington police were notified by the gateman. The train remained 20 minutes before continuing its run. It is known as No. 518; G. L. Cox, engineer; John J. Glynn, conductor.

Deceased leaves a wife, who is visiting in Dayton, Ohio.

EARL SNETSINGER DIES

Earl J. Snetsinger, 414 W. Hawthorne Arlington Heights, died of a heart attack Wednesday night. Services will be held Saturday afternoon from Black's Memorial Home. Mrs. Snetsinger is director of the Prospect Heights choral society.

Sheriff and State's Attorney pep up hand book raiding

A pre-election race to see who can raid the most handbooks is shaping up.

Since Monday, the Democratic state's attorney's office is one up on the Republican sheriff's office, with three raids to the sheriff's two.

State's Attorney Boyle said Tuesday night that from now on his officers are going to raid every handbook he learns of. Said Boyle, "we feel that this will be more effective than writing letters to the sheriff or to local police chiefs."

Boyle's officers made their start Monday by raiding three handbooks in Cicero. This was the first time state's attorney's officers have raided bookies since Boyle took office two years ago.

At the same time, County Police Chief Maurice Greene directed raids on two south suburban handbooks, one each in Lemont and Blue Island.

NEITHER GREENE nor Boyle are up for re-election. Greene's position as chief of Sheriff Walsh's highway police is an appointive one. However, Greene made it clear Tuesday that he is interested in keeping his job.

The Chief pointed out that he has served in the highway police department under both Republican and Democratic sheriffs. He said Tuesday that he became a Republican when Walsh was elected out of devotion to his job.

Boyle's term as state's attorney has until 1952 to run. Both men indicate they're interested in showing that anything the other can do, they can do better.

Local women participate in golden jubilee celebration

Members of the Arlington Heights Woman's club have been working diligently for several weeks to make today's Golden Jubilee meeting of the Seventh District of federated clubs a gala occasion.

Mrs. Milton C. Haase, president of the host club, has had charge of all local arrangements for the anniversary program being celebrated at Faith Lutheran church in Arlington Heights.

The morning business session beginning at 9:45 a.m. includes a contralto solo by Mrs. George Tuttle, accompanied by Mrs. Fredrick C. Schmoyer. At the luncheon hour, Rev. Edgar H. Behrens of Faith church will give the Invocation.

In the afternoon's program the guests and members of 38 northwest side woman's clubs will look backward through a "Golden Reverie" pageant to see the amusing, patriotic, and sometimes conflicting aims of clubwomen in the 50 year span.

Local club women who will be part of the cast are Mrs. G. R. Baxter, Mrs. R. M. Conrad, Mrs. Paul Espenshade, Mrs. E. A. Fahrner, Mrs. Kenneth Gregory, Mrs. Harold Olson, Mrs. P. R. Ramsay, Mrs. Andrew Riley, Mrs. Dan Schueren, Mrs. E. C. Sorenson, and Mrs. John D. Dutton.

Participating Arlington Heights Junior club members are Mrs. Harold Busse, Mrs. Robert Busse, Mrs. Donald Jaacks, Mrs. Morris Vernig, and Mrs. Donald Winkleman.

Properties for the pageant have been obtained by Mrs. Wilbert C. Hartmann.

Mrs. William J. Kerr has assembled authentic costumes to represent the years covered by the narrative. Mrs. Kenneth Gregory, Mrs. E. J. Harris, Mrs. George Schneberger, Miss Margaret Johnston and Mrs. Sherman Pate have loaned period costumes for the event.

All floral arrangements for the luncheon tables and for all the meeting rooms of the church have been made by Mrs. Sheridan T. Winter.

Southsiders discuss merits of proposed sewage revenue plan

Members of the Southside Community Association, Arlington Heights, are better informed after Tuesday night's meeting of that organization on the proposed sewerage revenue bond issue and possible alternates in method of payment and construction.

Attorney Walters, who is a member of the city-wide citizens committee which circulated the petition asking that a referendum be called, presented the sewer question clearly and concisely. There was no "call to arms."

IT WAS AN informative discussion and the audience was much interested. Those present were told that the committee had not reached any conclusion and any opinions expressed by Walters were his own and not the committee's.

A reporter summer up statements made by Mr. Walters as follows:

"THE SEWAGE treatment plant has a daily capacity of 800,000 gallons but two million gallons are entering it and that the infiltration from underground drainage is very heavy, as much as 1,500,000 gallons a day.

"This is partly due to combined drainage system of storm and sanitary sewers, a type common to most cities.

"According to the State Sanitary Water board, in the first 7 months of 1950 more than half of Arlington sewage was not treated. It suggested that one solution would be to capture some of the surface water and run it off.

"THE QUESTION was asked as to the advisability of having the costs of sewage treatment paid by an ad valoram tax on land.

"Present ordinance provides for enlarging treatment plant to a capacity of 3½ million gallons a day and to build one intercepting sewer.

"Engineers say underground flow from undeveloped areas will be taken care of as they are urbanized. Water coming from a roof onto a street is different from underground seepage.

"MAYOR'S committee questions the desirability of paying for the treatment plant and sewer in the manner that the ordinance provides—by tax on water use.

"Annexation to Sanitary District now possible because Mt. Prospect has annexed and we are contiguous. Would be financed, currently by ad valorem tax amounting to about $66,000 per year, same as cost of new plant and sewers under ordinance. Argument in favor of annexation is that history has shown that most towns do join as they become eligible.

"Against—the district is slow in taking over and also shows a history of rising costs.

"While waiting for annexation by the Sanitary District, would not a smaller improvement adequate for the next five or ten years be preferable?"

Announcement was made at the meeting that a membership dance will be held at the Mt. Prospect Country club Nov. 4; tickets $3.00 per couple

Dave Zimmerman is the new secretary of the association.

Supt. Clabaugh spoke on the need for a new school site.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

The subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, October 15, will be:

DOCTRINE OF ATONEMENT

The Golden Text is:

"Herein is love, not that we loved God, but that he loved us, and sent his Son to be the propitiation for our sins" (I John 4:10).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon, the following are from the Bible:

"Therefore, being justified by faith, we have peace with God through our Lord Jesus Christ: . . . For if, when we were enemies, we were reconciled to God by the death of his Son, much more, being reconciled, we shall be saved by his life. And not only so, but we also joy in God through our Lord Jesus Christ, by whom we have now received the atonement" (Romans 5:1, 10, 11).

The Lesson-Sermon includes the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy:

"Divine Truth, Life and Love gave Jesus authority over sin, sickness, and death. His mission was to reveal the Science of celestial being, to prove what God is and what He does for man . . . The atonement of Christ reconciles man to God, not God to man; for the divine Principle of Christ is God, and how can God propitiate Himself? . . . Jesus aided in reconciling man to God by giving man a truer sense of Love, the divine Principle of Jesus' teachings, and this truer sense of Love redeems man from the law of matter, sin, and death by the law of Spirit, —the law of divine Love" (pp. 26, 18, 19).

Arlington Heights Public Library. Hous: Monday through Friday, 3 to 9 p. m.; Saturday, 3 to 6 p. m.
The many people who enjoyed "The Egyptians" by Mika Waltari will be glad to know he has written another dramatic novel with a rich historical background. The title is "The Adventurer" and its hero is Michael, an exciting figure who seeks his fortune all over Europe in the days of turmoil following the Reformation, in the early sixteenth century.
Lawrence Schoomover, author of "Gentle Infidel," also has a new historical novel, "The Gentle Infidel," with a fifteenth century background in Turkey. The hero's adventures reached their climax during the spectacular siege and fall of Constantinople in 1453, which marked Christendom's last stand against the Infidel. It is a story of adventure, love and spiritual regeneration.
"River and Empty Sea" by Louis Vaczek is a story of the settlement of Canada by the French in the seventeenth century. After spending some time in colonial Quebec, Paul Denys was offered the position of King's Agent, and set off in the company of a Jesuit Priest, a French servant, and sixteen Indians into a year's search for the river route to Hudson Bay. The author describes with vivid reality the forest life, the hardships, and the fascination of their canoe trip through the unknown wilderness.

More community service goal of American Legion

Members of Merle Guild Post No. 208, American Legion, Arlington Heights, have pledged their support of Commander Bob Bishop's plans for greatly increased community service work and more and better social activity for the coming year.

Community Service Work was launched at the last Post meeting by the voting of funds to assist in the Arlington Heights "Get Out the Vote" campaign, for which the publicity chairman is Bob Balfour, post finance officer. Also a flag was purchased and presented to the Arlington Heights Woman's club. At the installation of post and auxiliary officers held last Saturday night, Legionnaires and many friends had the pleasure of viewing the first public showing of an excellent film on the U. S. Naval air power. This was possible through the courtesy of Lt. Commander R. A. Schram, U. S. N. R., who spoke on the dangers of under-estimating the power of Russia. He stressed the importance of all-out effort on the part of every one to keep our American Way of Life, and the extreme need for all good Americans to vote in every election.

A DANCE on Armistice Day, November 11, at the Mt. Prospect Country club, will launch the post's program of social activities for the season. Excellent music will be provided by Jack Fulton's orchestra. The public is invited, and tickets can be purchased from any Legionnaire or Auxiliary member at $3 per couple, or by calling Don Barker, 2754, or Arnold Sider, 481. The Legion Square Dances, which proved so popular with residents of Arlington Heights and vicinity last winter, will be started again next month. Watch this newspaper for announcement of dates.

The many Legionnaires and Auxiliary members who donned old clothes and wielded paint and scrub brushes are to be thanked for the "new look" in the Legion Home. The entire interior was redecorated. Also the Legion wishes to thank the ladies of the Auxiliary for their cooperation in handling the preparation and serving of the food at installation Saturday evening.

All veterans of Arlington Hts. are invited to visit the Post at 8 p. m. on the second and fourth Tuesdays of each month, which are regular meeting nights.

The retiring officers of Merle Guild Post No. 208 wish to thank Paddock Publications, the Park Board, village and school officials, business men, and all friends for their cooperation and assistance which greatly helped to make the past year a successful one.

Mission Festival Sunday at St. Peter church

Following a long-standing tradition, St. Peter Lutheran church, Arlington Heights, will observe its annual Mission Festival Sunday, October 15. Three festival services will be conducted in which Rev. Gerhard A. Roehrs, institutional missionary of Chicago, will preach the sermons. Local pastor, Luther V. Stephan, will serve as liturgist in the first and third services and shall make an address before the Sunday school children during the second service. The public is invited to attend any service.

Special mission envelopes are in the hands of members and they will bring their offering in these at all services next Sunday or as soon thereafter as possible.

The Mission Festival Sunday was inaugurated by Rev. Louis Harms, Lutheran pastor in Hermansburg, in the province of Hanover. His mission festivals lasted two days, the first day being spent in the church building under the influence of God's word; the second out in a grove when not one, but many sermons were preached and people, who had waited for these occasions, came from far and near to join his congregation.

Harm's congregation became aflame with the cause of missions and built a mission seminary, established two foreign mission fields in Africa and India, and built the famous Mission Ship in which missionaries were transported.

Heights PTA membership drive totals 1033

Arlington Heights PTA membership drive concluded October 6, with an enrollment of 1033 parents, a record for this community.

Cash awards of five dollars for the highest percentages of parents enrolled will be made to the rooms of Mrs. Radcliffe at North school, Miss Grothe at South school and Miss Lane's 6-1 group at the Junior high school.

A day-by-day tabulation and posting of the percentages for each individual room was carried out by the Membership chairman, Mrs. H. J. Gregg, and a committee composed of the school and room mothers.

Railroads pay boys' expenses to FFA convention in Missouri

Donald Linneman, last year's president of the Arlington Hts. chapter of the Future Farmers of America, and Ronald Botterman, this year's top officer, attented the national convention of the F. F. A. in Kansas City October 10, 11 and 12.

Don was elected one of the state vice-presidents at the convention last spring and is in charge of this section. His ticket is being donated by the Santa Fe railroad and the section is paying the balance of his expenses.

Because the Arlington chapter won the section contest for being the most active in this area, Ronald Botterman is being given $38 for expenses by the Milwaukee railroad.

J. D. Bryson, vocational agriculture teacher at the high school, in commenting on the good fortune and honor accorded the local boys, said, "The convention is a large and impressive gathering that should be valuable for both boys."

Wednesday FFA judging teams went to Marengo to compete in the sectional Grain and Poultry judging contests. Sixteen schools were entered including Marengo, Belvidere, Crystal Lake, Woodstock and Barrington. Eighty boys were competing in each contest.

Norman Silge from Arlington was second high in the grain judging. The team which also included Herbert Reckamp and Arnold Grimm was fifth high. LeRoy Mueller was third high individual in poultry (out of the 80 competing). The team, which also included Winfield Koelling and Kenneth Jacobson, was fourth high.

Missionary to Colombia, South America, will speak at Presbyterian church Sunday

Rev. Aulden Coble, missionary to Colombia, South America, since May, 1942, will preach at the morning worship service of the First Presbyterian church of Arlington Heights Sunday, October 15. He will tell of the work of missions in Colombia, and in the evening will speak to the combined young people's groups and show kodachrome slides of that picturesque country and its people.

Mr. Coble was graduated from McCormick Theological Seminary in 1940, and spent the following two years in the Ladd-Arlington, Ill., field. Since that time, except for a furlough in 1945, he and Mrs. Coble have been at the Ibague station in Colombia. He is now on leave and is teaching at McCormick Seminary. During his first term of service in Colombia, Mr. Coble traveled almost constantly in the scattered churches and unorganized congregations of the central Andes, while Mrs. Coble worked in the local church with the women and the Sunday school, also directing the music program.

Their second term of service was spent directing the work of the Bible Institute and Normal Training school, a boarding school for about 30 young country men and women. While Mrs. Coble supervised the Normal department and the primary practice school carried on in coordination with the Normal work, Mr. Coble served as principal and teacher, and supervised the construction of three buildings of a new plant in Ibague, plus the Ibague church building. Since 1944 he has also been the representative in Colombia for the American Leprosy Missions, Inc.

The Cobles have four children, two born in the United States and two in Colombia. They expect to return to the Ibague mission at the end of the year.

Members and young people of the First Presbyterian church are eagerly anticipating hearing Mr. Coble's first-hand report of mission work in Colombia, and invite their friends to join them at the morning worship service at 11 a.m. for an inspiring hour. Young people of this area are especially urged to join the Junior and Senior Tuxis which will meet at 7:15 p.m. Sunday

Music study group to hear Chicago Symphony oboeist

Jerry Sirucek, Prospect Heights resident and oboeist with the Chicago Symphony for the past nine years, will be the guest artist of the Music Study group next Thursday afternoon, October 19, at 1:30 o'clock.

At the home of Mrs. Charles W. Stadell, 416 Fairview ave., with Mrs. William K. Andrew as co-hostess, Woman's club members and guests are invited to hear this musician's program called "Understanding the Oboe." Mr. Sirucek will be assisted on the program by his wife, who is a violinist and teacher of violin. Mrs. Jens Rask will accompany the artists.

Mr. Sirucek joined the Chicago symphony orchestra in 1941 at the age of 19 and was at that time the youngest member of that organization. He has appeared as soloist in the Grant Park summer concerts, with the Tulsa and Houston Symphony orchestras, and at present is also a teacher of oboe with the Chicago Musical college, and Northwestern university.

His past achievements are not limited to the music field. He holds a Bachelor's degree with a major emphasis in mathematics from Roosevelt college, and studied aeronautical engineering in World War II.

Melodies of 50 years ago to be sung at Prospect Hts. Choral concert Oct. 29

Nostalgic memories will crowd to the minds and hearts of most of the audience at the Prospect Heights Choral Society concert Sunday, October 29, when a musical skit is presented which will cover many of the popular American songs and ballads from 1900 to 1950. Co-authors of the skit are Wayne Mitchell and Robert Randolph, (picture above) members of the society.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Mitchell, the popular husband and wife duet singers of last year's concert, will be represented as a middle-aged couple who, returning home after a party, begin to reminisce about events of the past 50 years. As memories throng forward, the rest of the choral group will evoke images such as that of Al Jolson, Sophie and their heart-rending songs, and the dance of the vanishing waistline days, the Charleston.

Tickets for the concert being held at the Arlington Heights high school auditorium are 75c for adults and 35c for children. They are available from any member of the group or at the door.

the heart of the drug store

ROOTED deep in the recesses of time is the modern drug store. Through 4,000 years of recorded history the dispenser of drugs has stood high in the esteem of the community. As the sciences of medicine and merchandising have advanced, the outward form of the ancient apothecary shop has changed. But service to the sick is still the very heart of our business. Our complete stock of pharmaceuticals is the best that the markets of the world afford. When illness strikes and your doctor prescribes, we will consider it a privilege to serve you.

NEW NEIGHBORS .... IN THE CITY OF GOOD NEIGHBORS

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Golle
1022 N. Patton

Mr. and Mrs. Golle and their three children have been residents of Arlington Park subdivision since the end of June and feel right at home in Arlington Heights. Their house is the former home of the John Lindstroms, who now live in Scarsdale Estates.

When Mr. Golle, then Montgomery Ward store manager in Kenosha, Wis., was transferred to Chicago as a regional merchandiser, the Golles, of course, needed a home closer to the city, and after scouting the suburbs decided they were the most impressed with Arlington Heights and, incidentally, with their house. Already Mr. Golle and 10-year-old Frank are at work constructing a rumpus room in the basement.

Linda, who is nine and in fourth grade at North school, is a talented tap dancer and is enrolled in Delores Eiler's school. John, who is six, is in first grade, and his mother is his room mother for his class. Frank, in sixth grade at the new Junior high school, is thrilled with the football he's playing as part of the athletic program there.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer O. Olin
604 N. Dryden

"Any one can tell our house," said Mrs. Olin, "it's the one that's yellow on the front and white everywhere else." Her husband is in the process of painting it, but bad week-end weather has held him up.

The Olins, who formerly lived in Northbrook and Rogers Park, Chicago, moved into their ranch-type home the middle of August, just in time to welcome their new twins who arrived September 11 at Evanston hospital. Mark weighed 7 pounds 4 ounces and Melissa, 7 pounds, 14 ounces.

Margery Olin was formerly a home economist but now, she says, "I really work." Her husband does advertising work for Vance Publishing company in Chicago.

The Olins gave up their home in Northbrook in favor of the Chicago apartment, but decided that a house in a suburb was more to their liking after all. In scanning the suburbs, they found a house they liked in a town they liked, and that's how they happened to become new neighbors in Arlington Heights.

College Degrees

In 1949 the nation's colleges and universities presented approximately 430,000 degrees, according to the United States office of education. The report was based on returns received from approximately 1,000 degree-granting institutions.

Newcomers pick officers

At a recent meeting of the Arlington Heights Newcomer's club the following officers were elected to serve for the next six month term: Mrs. William Fisher, president; Mrs. T. Ridley Anderson, vice-president; Mrs. Roy E. Johnson, secretary, and Mrs. L. Norman Hawkey, treasurer.

Committee chairmen have been appointed to serve on the board. They are: Mrs. Robert Everitt, sunshine; Mrs. John Bruning, hobby; Mrs. William Stevenson, education; Mrs. David V. Shaughnessy and Mrs. Jean M. Hefner, membership; Mrs. H. Lee Watson, hostess; Mrs. Charles P. Steward, program; Mrs. Russell E. Walters, transportation, and Mrs. Marvin W. Wangsness, publicity.

Invitations have been extended to the husbands to attend the October meeting which will be a Hallowe'en costume party to be held October 20 at 8:30 in the field house. Mixers, dancing and refreshments are being planned, and all newcomers in Arlington Heights are invited to attend.

Mrs. Charles P. Stewart is in charge of arrangements and those who will serve on her committee are: Mrs. Lyle W. Ewing, Mrs. Edward Smith, Mrs. Charles Mitchell and Mrs. Donald Hamachek. Prizes will be awarded for the best costume.

The Newcomer's club will be represented on the Community Council of Arlington Heights this year. Mrs. William Fisher will act as official representative and Mrs. T. Ridley Anderson as alternate.

All new persons in this area who are interested in this group should contact Mrs. David Shaughnessy, 2755-J, or Mrs. Jean Hefner, 285-R.

Newcomers

New neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. John J. Buckley and family of 1509 Brown st., Arlington Hts., moved into their Georgian style home June 1. They formerly lived in an apartment in Kenilworth, and looked around for some time before purchasing a home. When they did come to a final decision—Arlington Hts and the "Northwest Community" was their choice.

They have three children: Jack, who just celebrated his 6th birthday Saturday; Jim, who will be 5 in February, and Debbie, who will be 2 in February. The two boys love their new home and all the space they have to play in. Tiny Debbie is "mommy's little home companion." Jim is in first grade at St. James, and likes it very much.

Mr. Buckley is a special representative for the Standard Oil company.

Birthday Parties

Kenny Mueller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Mueller, celebrated his eighth birthday September 30. He was host to nine little friends. His dad drove them down to the Arlington Theater where they saw an exciting cowboy movie, and they stopped on the way home at the Big Freeze where the boys enjoyed refreshments. His guests were Larry Schroeder, Charles Wait, Richard and Kenny Miller, Timmie Thackery, Jerry and Tommie Klement, Peter Grosby and his little brother, Jimmy. Later in the evening Kenny blew out the candles on his birthday cake with just the members of the family present.

Thirteen little boys and girls were invited in Saturday to help little Jackie Lindstrom, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Lindstrom, celebrate his fourth birthday. Mickey Mouse movies were shown, games were played, and later they all enjoyed refreshments. The table was decorated in Hop-A-Long Cassidy style, with Hop-A-Long Cassidy table cloth and napkins and cowboy favors for each child. The cowboys and cowgirls who joined in the celebration were Davie Ackerlund, Kenny Miller, Jimmy Mueller, Christine Thackery, Kelly Konchar, Stevie Hookum, Johnny Robb, Jimmy Lambdin, Kent Ruechert, Kathy Kanne, Jill Leo and Bobby Skallerup, Mrs. R. H. Williams of Granville, Ohio, mother of Mrs. Lindstrom, also assisted with the party.

On the same day Jackie Buckley, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Buckley, marked his sixth birthday with a combination Hop-A-Long Cassidy and Hallowe'en party. This was Jackie's first party in his new home. His guests were Doug McPhail, John Anderson, Patti Ann Ritter, Bill Konchar, David Robson, Mary Ellen Robb, and his younger brother, Jim.

Wedding Bells

Mr. and Mrs. William Warren opened their home to their friends for the wedding Saturday of Mrs. Mary Schneider to Orville W. Krieger ,both of Peoria. The double ring ceremony took place at 3 p. m. and Rev. C. Victor Brown of the Presbyterian church officiated.

The combination living-dining room was decorated with candelabra, white gladioli and white mums. At 3:00 o'clock the bride descended the stairs to the strains of the Wedding March, played by Mrs. Warren. She wore a rose beige suit with cocoa brown accessories, a close fitting cloche of cocoa brown feathers, and a white orchid corsage.

Her attendant, Mrs. Clarence Duckworth of Peoria, wore a navy blue suit with pink accessories, and an orchid corsage.

The parents of the groom were present, and his mother wore a beige suit with black accessories and an orchid corsage.

His best man was William Warren, host and friend of many years.

The bride's two young sons, Ronald and Raymond, one dressed in brown, the other blue, were also in attendance.

After the ceremony refreshments were served to the 30 guests. A 5 p. m. a reception was held in the American Room at the Edgewater Beach hotel, and a delicious turkey dinner was served to 35 guests. The guests were entertained by a girl accordionist.

Sunday evening the couple left on a three week's honeymoon trip to the Hawaiian Islands, and on their return will move into their new home.

This was the second time the Warren home had been the romantic setting for a wedding. Just a year ago to the day, on October 8, 1949, William Arpaia and Donna De Court were joined in marriage.

Grandmother's Convention

Mrs. Louise Feddersen, mother of Mrs. Howard Trendel, is having a gay time attending the Grandmother's Convention, which is making a tour of some of the eastern states. The first stop was Buffalo, N. Y., from where they took a side trip to Niagara Falls, then on to New York for four days, Washington, D. C., for two days, and they will return home on the 15th.

Tuesday afternoon Johnny Schlomann welcomed his third birthday. Jackie Searfoss, Denny Olsta, Roberta Ann Gorder, Ricky Weber and Phillip Welles helped Johnny celebrate. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Schlomann.

Miss Agnes Marx returned from a week's vacation last Saturday evening. She drove up to Minnocqua, Wis., where she visited friends. She says the colors were beautiful, weather cool, but ideal, and the fishing not so good.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Schlomann celebrated their fifth wedding anniversary Saturday at home. Twenty relatives and friends joined in the celebration.

Mrs. William Andres was reelected president of the Women's Auxiliary of the Fire Department at their meeting last week. Her supporting officers are Alice Garre, vice-president, Helen Guenther, secretary, and Olive Schad, treasurer.

Junior Woman's club to sponsor modeling course

An opportunity which many young women in this area may want to take advantage of will soon be offered by the Arlington Heights Junior Woman's club. Last year for the first time the club sponsored a modeling course, and it proved to be so popular that the club is again making plans for a similar course this year.

The course will be under the direction of Dee Dickenson, who will be remembered by all who took the course last year. Mrs. Dickenson was formerly associated with one of the better known modeling agencies and has now opened her own agency in Evanston. She is well versed in all the fundamentals of modeling and good grooming, and is an able teacher.

Complete details regarding the course will be furnished at a later date, but tentative plans call for the course to start in the latter part of October. The charge for the 15-week course is ten dollars, and anyone interested in enrolling should watch for further announcements.

Myron W. Zinkel takes Phyllis DeVore as bride

—Betts Photo

Myron William Zinkel, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Zinkel of Arlington Heights, took as his bride Miss Phyllis Joyce DeVore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cliff O. DeVore of Des Plaines October 7.

Rev. Charles F. Landwere of Freeport, Ill., officiated at the 7 o'clock ceremony which took place at Trinity Lutheran church, Des Plaines. Margaret Borchers was the organist and T. Lee Hill of Evanston sang "I Love Thee" and "At Dawning." The church was decorated with white mums, gladioli and candelabra.

The bride wore a gown of French imported Chantilly lace over slipper satin, with a satin jacket. A satin and lace bonnet with pearl insets held her fingertip veil in place. She carried a cascade bouquet of white orchids and stephanotis. The bride also wore a 70-year-old gold bracelet that had been worn by the groom's grandmother at her wedding, and carried the lace handkerchief that the groom's mother had carried on her wedding day.

The matron of honor was the bride's sister, Mrs. William Lee of Freeport, Ill. She wore a festival green faille gown with matching jacket fashioned with cap sleeves and a portrait collar. She wore a festival green plume in her hair and carried a basket of yellow and bronze mums.

The bridesmaids were Mrs. Harlan Anderson of Urbana, Ill., and Miss Betty Lou Sheplack of Milwaukee. They wore gold faille gowns fashioned similar to the maid of honor's and carried baskets of bronze mums.

Cynthia Wetterman and the bride's cousin, Barbara, lit the candles. The bride's mother wore a toast colored crepe gown and a corsage of green orchids, and the groom's mother wore a plum colored crepe dress and a white orchid corsage.

Best man for the groom was Harold Schubert of Arlington Heights, and the ushers were William Lee of Freeport and Art Johnston of Normal.

A reception was held at the Chicago House in Wheeling following the wedding. The newlyweds took a wedding trip to the Ozarks. Upon their return they will make their home on Busse highway in Arlington Heights.

The bride and groom are both employed at the Des Plaines First National Bank.

Out of town guests from Palo Alto, Calif., Milwaukee, Wis., and Rockford and Freeport, Ill., attended the wedding.

The bride wore a princess style gown of white chiffon velvet with seed pearls on the collar and sleeves and a long train. A juliet cap held her finger tip veil in place. She carried a bouquet of mums with a white orchid in the center.

Her five attendants wore rust and green velveteen gowns with matching muffs and caps. On the muffs were bouquets of mums.

Attendants were Miss Joan Unger, maid of honor, Arlington Heights; Miss Janet Thorsen, sister of the bride, junior bridesmaid; Misses Pearl Marie and Mary Anne McDonald, sisters of the groom, and Miss Eileen Hedien, Barrington, bridesmaids.

Harold Busse demonstrates flower arrangements before Junior Woman's club

Every one who attended the regular October meeting of the Arlington Heights Junior Woman's club last Tuesday evening at the field house agreed that it was one of the most enjoyable meetings in the history of the club. Harold Busse of Busse's Flowers in Mt. Prospect demonstrated the many and varied ways in which flowers may be used effectively to highlight special occasions and to beautify the home.

He included in his informal talk examples of how to design interesting floral arrangements for general decorating purposes, special table or mantel pieces, seasonal groupings, and ideas for holiday decorations throughout the year. He also showed the club how corsages are made up.

FAVORITES For FLAVOR

by HESTER KLIEN

"I was told you might call on me for a recipe, and may not find me home," Grandma Scott, 202 W. Euclid, Arlington Hts. wrote the "Recipe Lady."

"Pies? Yes I bake the pies at our house and Jay makes the cakes. She's an expert with angel food and has a special frosting recipe—can be used on any cake." ("We'll remember that, Jay, and hope you will let us divulge your secrets to all our readers in the near future.)

"As for pie recipes, I have no set rule," Mrs. Scott continues. "Apple pie takes plenty of sugar, some flour, cinnamon and nutmeg and plenty of dots of butter or oleo. It takes a hot oven to begin with so the crust will not soak, and this insures a brown pie. We don't like an anemic pie.

"Bacon fat is good for the crust. If I don't have enough I add other shortening.

"Use part of the sugar and flour in the bottom of the shell before the apples or fruit is put in. This will help prevent a soggy crust."

Ladies, these hints should help us turn out those flaky pastries that our husbands enjoy.

Our thanks to Mrs. Bertha Scott for her help.

CIRCLING THE TOWN

BY PHYLLIS KNIGHT

There'll be big doings on Saturday night at the South school, for that's the time of the PTA's annual Fall Frolic. An admission price of 85 cents, including tax, entitles one to an entertaining trip down the "midway" as well as to participation in the evening's most popular feature, square dancing.

A visit to the carnival attractions will reveal the excitement of the summertime carnival, but all the barking done by so-called amateurs from the PTA. Favorite attractions have included weight-guessing (by one of the dads who said his accuracy increased steadily as the evening wore on), a cake walk and a grab bag.

The square dance will be going on all evening with visitors free to come and go as they please. Calling will be done by an expert and there will be help available for beginners.

Refreshments of the carnival type—hot dogs and pop on the menu, of course—will be available all evening long, and if past Frolics are any indication, a brisk business will keep the volunteers in the kitchen mighty busy.

A spirit of informality and good fun will prevail at this Saturday's party to which every one is invited for an inexpensive and entertaining evening.

Party No. 2

Also on the calendar for Saturday night—and also promising a good time to those who attend—is the Junior Woman's club's hard times party at Fred's place on Rand rd. Tickets for this dance are $2.00 a couple and may be purchased from club members or at the door.

The Junior Woman's club is justly famous for their fine dances, from formal ones at country clubs to these informal parties like the one coming up this Saturday. This is the second dance the girls have held at Fred's place, having found the atmosphere congenial to the type of parties they like. There is generally at least one unusual feature at their parties, too, and this time the members say the decorations are what will call forth the comments.

On the autumn scene

Last Wednesday's opening meeting of the Arlington Heights Woman's club brought out the usual array of new fall fashions. Suits predominated with green being a favorite color. Hats, it appears are smaller this year, fitted closely to the head.

The attractive tea table at the meeting, with autumn featured in its color scheme of brown and gold, was planned by the October hostesses, Mrs. L. J. Rahn and Mrs. R. J. Malcomson. The tiered centerpiece was filled with vivid leaves.

The first meeting of the Woman's club year is always a festive one with the welcoming of new members and the renewing of old friendships. From the number attending and from their enthusiasm, it looks like the president, Mrs. Milton Haase, and her officers and committees will have a most successful year ahead.

Hard Times Dance sponsored by Jr. Woman's club to be held Saturday

Last call for everyone to dig out their patched pants, old dresses, and worn-out shoes! The big occasion is the Hard Times Dance to be sponsored by the Arlington Heights Junior Woman's club October 14 at Fred's Place on Rand rd.

Music for the affair will be furnished by Les Griffith and his Harvesters, who are well-known in this vicinity for their spirited music-makin', and the dance will begin at 9 p. m. There will also be many special attractions.

Tickets for the dance are two dollars per couple and can be purchased from any club member or secured at the door the night of the dance.

Committee chairmen for this affair are: refreshments, Mrs. Dan Bittner; decorations, Miss Pearl Miller; publicity, Miss Ruth Heuer; ticket sales and general chairman, Mrs. Roland Koenig. (AM

Take wedding vows recently in Chicago

October 7 Otto Masny of Arlington Heights took as his bride Eileen McMahon of Chicago. The couple was wed in Chicago and the bride's two sisters and her brother-in-law and the groom's brother, Myron, were the attendants.

After a honeymoon the newlyweds will make their home in Island Lake.

Alpha Eta chapter of Sigma Alpha Sigma to hold dance

The public is invited to attend "Black Magic" and dance to the music of Phil Walsh and his orchestra October 28. Music will be furnished from 9:30 p. m. until 1 a. m.

Hallowe'en and its weird witchery will be the theme of the decorations at the Des Plaines VFW hall, 2067 Miner st., Des Plaines, where the dance is to be held.

Tickets are selling at $1.20 (tax incl.) per person and may be obtained by calling either Miss Jean Jeueck (Mount Prospect 806) or Mrs. Ruth Goebbert (Arlington Heights 341-J). However, on the evening of the dance, tickets will be sold at the door. (B4

Black, Ullock named Red Cross disaster chairmen

Chicago Chapter Red Cross disaster plans are becoming more highly organized on a local level, with the appointment of disaster chairmen in 280 communities in Cook, DuPage, and the southern half of Lake counties.

Richard Black, 207 N. Vail and Tom Ullock, 502 N. Dryden, have agreed to serve as official representatives of the Chapter's Disaster Preparedness and Relief Service in Arlington Heights.

Mr. Black and Mr. Ullock, who were chosen by Forrest F. Davis in Arlington Heights will work closely with the local Red Cross committee.

By mid-September, 130 volunteer Red Cross disaster chairmen had been appointed, and others are being recruited in the remaining 150 communities.

"There are good reasons why the Chicago Chapter Red Cross is adding disaster chairmen to the local committees," Mr. Davis pointed out. "If a disaster should occur in Arlington Heights, Mr. Black and Mr. Ullock would be on hand to look over the situation and tell the Chapter exactly what is needed in the way of personnel and materials. They will be in year-round contact with local officials, building a strong disaster preparedness structure. And finally, Mr. Black and Mr. Ullock will interpret Red Cross disaster policies to the community."

The necessity of schooling the new volunteer disaster chairmen in their Red Cross obligations lead to the setting up of eight disaster institutes at convenient community centers throughout the Chicago Chapter area. Disaster and general chairmen in this area were invited to attend the institute held at Arlington Heights field house on three successive Friday nights starting September 15.

Those from Arlington Heights who attended the disaster institute were: Forrest Davis (General Chairman), Mr. Black and Mr. Ullock (Co-chairmen-Disaster Committee).

Bean Diet

Although in the United States about nine pounds of dried beans per person are eaten each year, the bean diet is far from monotonous. Every section of the nation has a different way of preparing the many varieties of dried beans—navy or pea, red kidney, great northern, yellow eye, pinto and lima, to list the most familiar.

Some of the recipes come straight from the American Indians who cultivated beans from Peru to Canada many centuries before the coming of white men. The baked bean, for example, was familiar fare around New England Indian camp fires long before the founding of Boston.

Succotash — a mixture of corn and beans—was a popular dish of the Incas in Peru, while the frijoles of the ancient Mexican Indian are still considered the national food of Mexico.

GRANT TOUGH OBSTACLE FOR BISONS THIS SATURDAY NIGHT

MAC SAYS

by G. A. McELROY

Palatine proved Friday night that an average sized active team is better than a heavy slow outfit when they knocked Bensenville out of the Northwest Conference race. True, Bensenville has only one defeat but for all practical purposes they are eliminated as they must meet the undefeated leaders, Grant and Barrington, the next two weekends. Grant is rated as having the most speed of any team in the league while Barrington has fair speed and more power than the Bisons.

Bison-Bulldog game heads league card this week

This week the Bensenville at Grant game Saturday night headlines the league schedule. The defeat by Palatine may be what Bensenville needs to get them going. Grant has not met a first division team yet and has not been tested in a close game. They will have their toughest game to date but we pick them to win by 20 to 7. Barrington has too much reserve strength and class for Wauconda and should win handily by 32-0. We don't think the Bronchos can run up a score like that 73-0 they recorded over Wauconda last year and we don't think they would try to if they could. Northbrook is expected to beat Ela 7-0 and gain a .500 rating.

If Pirates do not prime for Antioch, they'll lose

Palatine and Antioch meet Saturday night in a double bill at the Pirate homecoming. Palatine has gained a reputation for playing their poorest ball of the season year after year against Antioch. If the Pirates bask in the glory of their smashing victory over Bensenville this week and do not continue to work hard on fundamentals they may again finish on the short end of the score. On the other hand the Bensenville victory may fire them up with the possibilities of remaining in the race for the championship. Palatine football teams in recent years have been rather unpredictable. We were most happy that our prediction for them last week backfired. Playing safe we will have to rate the Pirate-Antioch clash a toss up with a 13-12 score and you pick the winner. We are inclined toward Palatine but will have to be shown.

Steve Roake tops Northwest scorers

Again the Barrington stars are leading the Northwest Conference scoring as Steve Roake has tallied five touchdowns and John Popp four in three games to date. Grant's speedy grid team has racked up just about as many points as the Bronchos but has better balanced scoring. For instance in the Northbrook game five different men each got touchdowns.

The dependence of Barrington on Steve Roake may yet be their downfall. You can always find a way to stop one boy. A number of coaches and fans think that the speed advantage Grant will have over Barrington will enable them to upset the Bronchos when they meet at Grant October 28. There is no question but that a dry field and playing under their own lights will be a help to the Bulldogs.

Four touchdowns due to new ruling

The new rule allowing the defensive team to advance a recovered fumble has already resulted in four Northwest Conference touchdowns this year. The first two made in the Palatine-Bensenville game were on recovered fumbles by Abrahamson of the Pirates and Parks of the Bisons.

Rainy week end brings many gridiron upsets

A rainy week end had a lot to do with the outcome of some of the major games. We don't think that Illinois and Iowa would now be among the defeated if playing fields had been dry and fast. The Notre Dame defeat was so clear cut that weather had no part in it. Neither did Michigan State's upset loss to Maryland.

Games so far prove the Big Ten to be more evenly matched than previous years. The powerful teams of the last two years are weaker. The weaker teams have been strengthened, namely Purdue, Indiana, Iowa, and Wisconsin. Northwestern with many new men appears to have what it takes. Sophomores all over the conference are attracting notice and these first year men will be the factor in determining the Big Ten champ and Rose Bowl nominee.

Northbrook in home opener against Ela

Northbrook high school lost its second conference football game to Barrington high school Saturday afternoon, October 7. Barrington has won 19 straight games.

The score of 28 to 0 does not indicate the stubborn foe the Northbrook boys proved to be. At the half the score was 7 to 0 and Barrington was a little worried. The field was wet from the rain of two days and so the running and line attack of Barrington got them no place. During the second half quarterback Dan Osinski threw two touchdown passes, one for 60 yards and one for 70, to end Steve Roake.

Barrington team was much taller than the Northbrook boys which gave them a big advantage on pass receiving and pass defense. The outstanding run of the game came in the last quarter when Popp broke through right tackle and went 40 yards for a touchdown.

Friday evening at 7:30 the Northbrook Vikings will play their first home conference game with Ela of Lake Zurich at Roosevelt Field in Glenview.

Palatine frosh-sophs roll over Grant, 34-0

Held to a 7-0 first half lead, Palatine's frosh-soph really poured it on Grant Tuesday afternoon to win 34-0. Schrage scored in the second quarter and Lorden converted. Lorden tallied two touchdowns and place kicked two extra points in the third.

In the last quarter an all frosh backfield went into the game for five plays and put over a touchdown with Stenzel going over from the 25 yard line on a reverse. Jesse plunged for the extra point. A pass to Charley Hartman accounted for the final score. Bob Lorden's passing, kicking, and running was outstanding.

The Palatine frosh-sophs meet Antioch at 6:30 Saturday night in a preliminary to the varsity homecoming game.

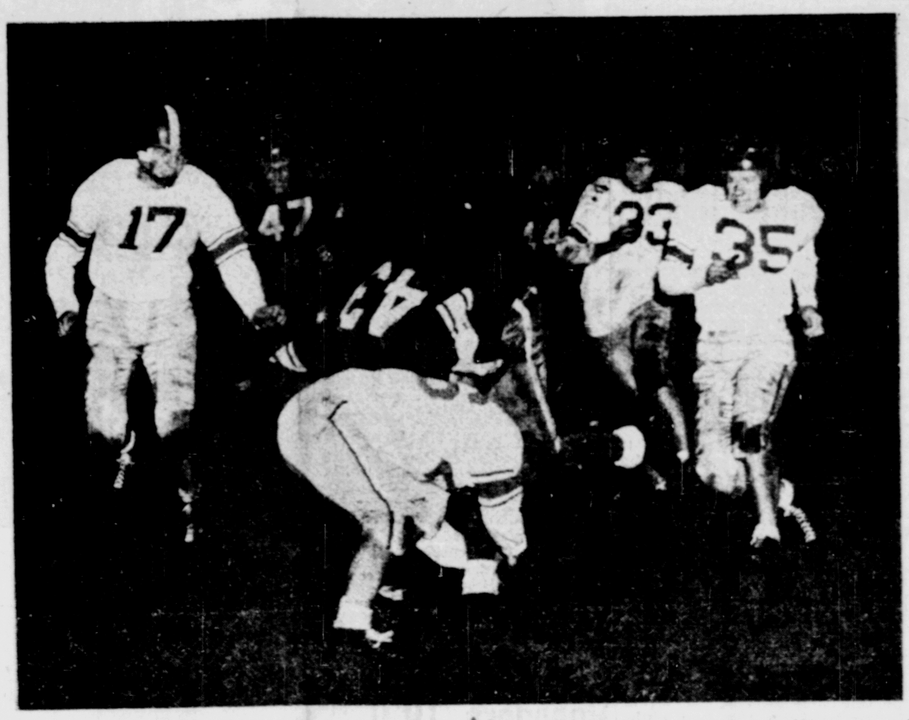
Evans stops Heckmiller but Barrington scores on next play



Heckmiller (43) of Barrington is stopped by Evans (36) of Arlington after gaining several yards in Tuesday night's game in which the Bronchos emerged the winner, 13-7.
Coming up to aid Evans are Intravartolo (17), Deigl (33) and Van Driel (35). In the next play Heckmiller went on to score a touchdown for Barrington. Hammer-Rose photo

Crucial four minutes gives Broncs 13-7 win over Cards

by G. A. McELROY

Barrington rolled to their 20th straight gridiron victory Tuesday night at Arlington Heights by whipping the Cardinals 13-7 in a bitterly fought battle. The Northwest Conference leaders, led by their great end, Steve Roake, held Arlington to less than 100 yards net gain from scrimmage in an outstanding exhibition of defensive play.

All the scoring came within a space of four minutes. Arlington blocked a punt on the Broncho 14 yard line and on the last play before the intermission scored on a tackle around play from the nine yard line with George Kovacik carrying the ball. Fasick converted for a 7-0 Arlington lead at half time.

Alert Broncho defense sets up scoring chances

On the first play of the second half Arlington fumbled and Thomas, Barrington center, recovered on the Cards' 31 yard line. On fourth down an 11 yard pass to Roake made it first down on the 17. Then Roake scored on an end around play. A bad pass from center prevented Ernie Gerlach from drop kicking the conversion. On the third play after the Barrington kick off Disney intercepted a Card pass on the 31 yard line to set up a second score. Osinski faded to pass, was swarmed over by Arlington tacklers, but got off an accurate shot to Heckmiller who ran to the goal line for the winning tally. Gerlach's drop kick made it 13-7.

John Popp got away with a 38 yard touchdown run a little later but a holding penalty nullified a brilliant effort. In the first quarter Barrington chalked up four first downs in a long march from their own 10 yard line to the Arlington 17. Thill intercepted a pass on the Arlington five and ran it to the 45 to halt the Barrington drive.

Thill was Cards' best ground gainer

Thill was Arlington's best offensive threat with a net gain of 41 yards of the 53 made by the Cardinals from scrimmage. Roake who made 35 yards in four plays and Heckmiller who picked up 31 net led Broncho ground gainers.

Dan Osinski did a masterful job of directing the Barrington offense from his quarterback position. Steve Roake played a great defensive game tackling Arlington boys four times for sizeable losses, intercepting a pass, and running back punts for a total of 70 yards. Mike Disney, Broncho guard, intercepted two passes in the second half.

Over 3,000 spectators watched one of the best prep games played in the northwest suburbs this season.

Arlington gridders point for Niles contest

With Arlington's defeat by Barrington Tuesday night now in the record books, Coach Curtis Larsen's charges have turned to priming for the homecoming contest on the home field against Niles next week Friday, October 20. Two games are on the docket, the frosh-sophs meeting at 6:15 p. m.

Reserved seats for that game are on sale at the high school office.

Niles frosh top Leyden yearlings

by WESLEY MARX

Leyden's frosh football squad lost its reputation of being undefeated and unscored upon this season when it was handed a 7 to 0 setback by the Nilehi frosh last Friday at Leyden.

Nilehi Quarterback Chuck Riley's touchdown pitch to End Jim Satterbury ended a three-and-a-half-quarter scoreless deadlock between the two teams and gave the frosh Trojans their first victory in two games. Richard Borrow's diving catch of another Riley pass added the extra point to the Trojan tally.

Eagles falter at Bensenville

Palatine Eagles semi-pro football team drew first blood against the Elmhurst Travelers Wednesday night in Bensenville, but that was the end of local scoring for the night. Elmhurst, ably directed by their quarterback, "Fuzzy" Adams, then took over and never relinquished the game until a 46-6 tally was counted.

Elmhurst punted from their own 15 yard stripe early in the opening period, the ball going sideways. Tom Moody picked it up and ran across for Palatine's only score, a dash of 19 yards. Conversion was no good.

The Travelers then started passing, racking up three touchdowns in a hurry. Then, when the Eagles had the Travelers' quarterback trapped behind the line of scrimmage, Adams didn't know it and broke loose for the fourth score just before the half ended, 25-6.

THE PALATINE line held up good but pass defense was very weak. The second half the Elmhurst Whiz Kid again evaded Eagle tacklers for another TD, then tossed two more touchdown passes the last half. Adams also kicked two extra points.

Elmhurst carded their other two points on a safety. This brings Palatine slate to two wins, one tie and one loss.

Sunday's game against Westmont at Palatine was postponed due to the heavy rain. This Saturday the Eagles travel to Lombard. Next home game is slated for Sunday night, October 22, at Palatine Community park starting at 8 p.m.

Meneguin's boys have 6-2 edge since '42, but it's Grant's year

by BOB PADDOCK

Bensenville and Grant high school football squads will continue their hard fought battles this Saturday night at Fox Lake when Coach Tom Meneguin's charges seek to regain the win trail after suffering a 25-14 loss to Palatine.

Grant and Bensenville always have been tough for each other, though the southerners have the edge in games won, 6-2 with one tied since eleven man football competition was established between the two schools in 1942.

Ironically enough Grant has been trimming the Bisons every three years. The last time they did it was in 1947. This year represents a golden opportunity for the Bulldogs to keep that record clean.

THE EXPERTS, off the Bisons' showing against Palatine last week, would give a tight battle to Grant. But don't count on it.

The 20-7 licking administered Bensenville in '44 was sound enough, but the only other loss to the northerners by the DuPage school was 15-14 in '47. Other times the locals have emerged triumphant anywhere from 9-0 to 19-0.

The Bisons were never held to less than two touchdowns by Grant until the last two seasons, when there have been just three TDs scored by both schools.

CONFERENCE standings for these same years only serve to bear out the intense rivalry between the two teams. Only thrice in the eight years have the two schools finished anywhere but next to each other. The Bisons edged their rivals third to fifth in '42 and second to fifth in '46, while Grant was ahead, third to fifth last season.

Other years found the two schools tied for first in 1947, and second in '43. Grant led, first to second, in '45 while Bensenville did the same in '44. In 1948 the Bisons led, second to third.

Other comparisons show the Bisons have won 25, lost 14, and tied 2, while Grant has won 22, lost 17 and tied 3 in league competition since '42.

In spite of the "expert" predictions for Grant, either team could win in what should prove a hard fought battle all the way. If the Fox Lake boys do win, it will be their speed that turned the trick.

OTHER GAMES in the Northwest conference find Antioch traveling to Palatine for a homecoming doubleheader. The Pirates should win, but Antioch always has been tough for Palatine. The Sequoits could upset.

Barrington at Wauconda shapes up as an exhibition, with some Bronco not playing too much in Tuesday's Arlington Heights victory and next week's competition at Bensenville. Ela plays at Northbrook Friday night in the only Friday contest.

Pirates spoil Bensenville homecoming, 25-14 and 19-0

by G. A. McELROY

Showing a complete reversal of form from their Wauconda game, Palatine's Pirates spoiled Bensenville's homecoming and dropped them from the Northwest conference undefeated class with a smashing 25-14 victory last Friday night. Outweighed 20 pounds to the man Palatine more than made up for the difference in speed, fight, and determination, to whip Coach Meneguin's team for the second straight season. The Palatine frosh-soph made the rout of the Bisons complete by winning 19-0.

Palatine scored before the first quarter was two minutes old. A Pirate punt was fumbled on the Bison 35 yard line where Dick Abrahamson, soph end, picked it up in full stride and galloped to the one foot line before he was hauled down from behind. Ross plunged over on the next play and Day placekicked the extra point.

A little later Palatine returned the favor by dropping the ball on an end run and Parks of the Bisons picked it up on the first bounce and raced 35 yards to score. Currie converted. The score remained deadlocked until after the intermission. During the second quarter Palatine drove to the Bison 25 yard line but was held for downs. Sievers intercepted a pass to stop one Bison threat on the 34 and another was halted on the 33.

Punting advantage sets up second Pirate score

A 50 yard quick kick by Zoellick of Palatine followed by a 15 yard penalty set Bensenville back to their one yard stripe early in the third period. The Bisons punted out to the 27 yard line and from this point the Pirates marched to their second touchdown. The series of five plays was Day 1 yard, Ross 14, Ross 6, Day 2, and Dejka 4 on a quarterback sneak. The place kick was blocked.

A few minutes later Bensenville threatened when a Palatine player batted a long Bison pass right into the hands of Wilkie on the Palatine 38. The Pirates were equal to the occasion and took over on their own 29 on downs. Palatine gained on an exchange of punts and with Day charging hard through the line moved down to the Bison 32 but, as they did on four other occasions, fumbled the ball to the opposition.

Five plays later Dan Day snagged a Bison pass and ran 40 yards unmolested to score. Day kicked goal but Palatine was offside and a second try failed. A little later Bensenville gambled and lost the ball to the Pirates on their own 39. A fourth score was put over in short order as Palatine tore the big Bison line apart. Dan Day plunged for 10 yards and came right back for a 17 yard gain. Then Dick Ross ran through the Bison defense 12 yards to score standing up. The try for extra point was blocked.

Bisons score on 61 yard pass play

Palatine kicked off to the Bisons who took the ball on their own 39 yard line. On the first play a long pass was batted by a Palatine defender into the hands of Karrigan of the Bisons who had a clear field for a touchdown. Currie converted. The Bison kickoff was run back 40 yards by hard driving Dan Day and with Day running 13 yards and Ross 11 the Pirates had first down on the 12 and another score seemed a certainty. It was here that another Pirate fumble recovered by the Bisons stopped the march. Palatine again had the ball on Bensenville's 13 yard line when the game ended.

Speed and spirit offset Bison weight advantage

The game statistics show an even contest from the standpoint of yardage gains. However, the Bensenville team never did carry on a sustained drive and except for a couple of long passes did most of their gaining in their end of the field. It was a game of breaks. Palatine gave Bensenville five breaks on recovered fumbles but the Bisons capitalized on only one. Palatine speed and spirit gave the Pirates the edge over their heavier opponents who appeared to tire in the second half.

Palatine played without the services of their heaviest man, 190 pound Jim Hillesheim who is regular fullback on offense and tackle on the defense. Hellesheim sprained an ankle in practice. Dan Day and Dick Ross were standout ball carriers for Palatine. Fred Herbertz, sub fullback shifted to end, played an outstanding defensive game as did most of the Palatine linemen.

Palatine Frosh-Sophs 19, Bison Yearlings 0

The Palatine Frosh-Sophs had a greater edge on Bensenville than the 19-0 score would indicate. On the first play of the game Lorden ran 50 yards but Palatine was offside. This did not dishearten the soph Pirates who immediately marched 61 yards in seven plays to score. Bensenville ran two plays after the kickoff and then Palatine was on the move again. The Pirates traveled 72 yards in 11 running plays highlighted by runs of 21 yards by Stenzel and 23 by Loren. Gephart made the touchdown. Twice Palatine threatened in the first half on intercepted passes by Rehusch and Lorden and on one occasion was stopped on the Bison one foot line.

On the third play of the second half Harlan Gephart intercepted a Bison pass and ran 25 yards to score. Thereafter Palatine threatened but could not put together a sustained drive due to frequent penalties and the fact that after the second touchdown the regular quarterback, Schrage was out of action with an injury. Gephart intercepted four Bison passes in the second half to give Palatine scoring chances.

The statistics show Palatine's net gain 307 yards to Bensenville's 20. Palatine frosh-sophs had a 25 pound per man weight advantage combined with speed but handicapped their own cause with 90 yards setback in penalties.

Bears hungry for Packer meat

Chicago Bears will be out for blood Sunday, just as much as last week, when the Green Bay Packers come to town hoping to make it two in a row. Just two weeks ago those same Chicagoans had a nice trip up to the northwoods. The overnight stay at the Northland hotel was deluxe with prospects of fine weather the following day for the exhibition.

Then the roof fell in on the Halasmen in the form of three plays — two interceptions (besides two others and a punt return, all for TDs and the ball game. From that moment on Lujack and company, with prodding from Papa Bear Halas, haven't forgotten that 31-21 defeat.

Another near capacity crowd is expected Sunday for the Packer tilt at Wrigley Field, though seats were still available the early part of the week. Rivalry between the two clubs is second only to the Bear-Card competition and in spite of the Chicagoans having a 36-23 edge, upsets have been common in the series dating back to 1921.

SHUT OUTS have been scarce since 1932 in the series, though from '28 to '30 the Packers amassed a seven game win streak including five goose eggs. Since that time Green Bay victories haven't been too numerous, getting up to two in a row just twice.

The Bears have added one string of six and two of five in a row in that time, the final streak falling September 30. In shut outs there have been just three, all to the Bears. The Halasmen won, 2-0, in 1938, 21-0, in '44, and 17-0 last year. Last season the Packers also bowed, 24-3.

Green Bay hasn't defeated the Bears twice in one season since 1935. The Halasmen, on the other hand, scored double victories over the Packers in 1940-1941-1942-1946-1948 and last year.

GREEN BAY'S new Don Hutson will be the cynosure of all eyes at Wrigley Field.

The new Hutson of Packerland is Billy Grimes, a 6 foot, 1 inch, 200 pounder from Oklahoma, who operates at halfback. Although this is only his first season in the National Football League, Grimes already is one of the most feared runners in the game. His punt returns contributed greatly to Green Bay's 31 to 21 victory over the Bears two weeks ago. Last Sunday, against the New York Yanks, Grimes sparkled with 161 yards in runs from the line of scrimmage. Head Coach Gene Ronzani makes no secret of the fact that he intends to turn his new ace loose at Wrigley Field.

Kickoff time is 2 p. m.

THE CARDINALS journey to Cleveland for the weekend, meeting the Browns in what should be a win for the Ohioans. Curly Lambeau's boys fought hard as they could Sunday but Bear strength was just too much. Big trouble with the southsiders was the fifth man in their backfield—Sprinkle.

The Cardinals could surprise, however, if they rally and play football the way they did against Baltimore that second half.

Basketball practice may officially start in Illinois

October 1 is past and basketball may legally be under way in schools of the Illinois High School Association. This is a new rule and a good one that there may be no cage workouts until after October 1. Unfortunately some schools do not obey the spirit of this rule any more than they have the football starting rule. Sometimes we think that having such a rule penalizes only the schools who want to do the right thing and those whose actions caused the rule go on pretty much as they did before.

Niles trounces Belvidere, 19-0

by FRED DAESCHLER

The Nilehi never-say-die football team, after dropping a contest to Proviso, defeated the Belvidere eleven last Friday night, October 6, under the lights at Niles. Coach Virgil Van Cleave's boys dumped the visitors by the score of 19 to 0.

Tomorrow, Saturday, October 14, is Homecoming at Nilehi with the Trojans playing host to the Mustangs from Mortan. The Sophs will kick off at 12:15 p. m., while the varsity clash will get under way at 2 p. m.

The Trojans struck early in the first quarter as Halfback Ronald Gawrys shot through the center of the line ripping off a 27-yard gain before he was finally hauled down. Quarterback Don Walter followed up with one of his aerials to Bob Richter which was good for 15 yards and another first down. Russell O'Grady, Trojan fullback, then made the first of his two touchdown runs, as he skirted end and romped 30 yards for the score.

LES JACOBSEN made the conversion and Nilehi took a 7 to 0 lead.

Belvidere came back strong, early in the second period as tackle Ed Fidder intercepted a Trojan pass and ran the ball back 55 yards before being brought down on the Nilehi 30-yard line.

Halfback Don Rowe then plowed to the 2-yard line where the Trojans apparently decided this was close enough and gave out with their impersonation of a Minnesota goal-line stand. From this point Belvidere was not only held for 4 downs, but was shoved back to the 8-yard line.

Don Walter carried the ball out of the danger zone, where it was then handed off to Russell O'Grady, who galloped 78 yards for his second touchdown.

MINUTES LATER Don Walter's intercepted pass and Buddy Hildebrand's driving run set up the third touchdown as Ronald Gawrys slipped over from the 5-yard line for the final score.

In the second half neither team dented the scoring column, but both had on several occasions penetrated deep into the opposing territory. The end of the game came with the Trojans still holding the upper hand as the final score read, Niles 19, Belvidere 0.

Blake, a veteran of 27 years' officiating at most of the country's top college football games, retired from active participation with his appearance as referee in last January's Rose Bowl game between Ohio State and California.

Niles frosh-sophs roll over Belvidere

by RAY SPENCER

Nilehi's Frosh-Soph Trojans highly oiled offensive unit clicked just often enough and long enough as they ripped and tore in an inspired frenzy to beat Belvidere 32 to 0 on the Trojan home field last Friday night.

In the first quarter, Dick Rosenberg, Niles halfback who has been on the injured list since the Waukegan game, scored on a 15-yard end sweep. The try for the conversion failed.

The second period showed Ray Rihe, halfback, slashing his way through the line 45 yards for another Trojan tally, but the try for the conversion again failed. He later literally threw himself over the goal. Again the try for the extra point was foiled.

Dick Meyer, Trojan quarter back, intercepted a Belvidere lateral in the third frame and raced 45 yards for a score. Meyer flipped a pass to Lou Turcany, end, who made a circus catch for the conversion.

Rosenberg, running rampant, scored again in the fourth period, scampering 32 yards for the touchdown. The nimble fingers of Turcany again accounted for the extra point.

Belvidere had a fine offensive unit, but their defense couldn't stop Dick Rosenberg, who carried the brunt of the Trojan attack. The tricky play of the Niles grid juggermaut completely befuddled the Belvidere Littlebucks throughout the game.

Fusari-Pellone next match at Stadium

Chicagoans will get their first look at two of the nation's top welterweights in the flesh Oct. 18 when Charlie Fusari and Tony Pellone square off in the Chicago Stadium for 10 rounds.

Charlie Fusari rocketed to national acclaim in the spring of 1949 when he flattened the late Vince Foster in the first round of their Madison Square Garden battle. Foster was a heavy favorite but Fusari came steaming out of his corner at the bell and left the ring in the middle of the first round with his pompadour still slicked back.

A few months later Fusari took on Rocky Graziano in the Garden and was leading on points over the colorful middleweight who outweighed him by some 15 pounds. Rocky had to put on a late spurt in the 10th round and score a knockout to save his face.

Pellone is one of the most popular slugger type of fighters in the lighter division. His last effort was one of the most disputed decisions of recent years, when Johnny Saxton won a decision from Tony in Madison Square Garden. Most television fans who viewed the fight in Chicago claim that Tony "was robbed" and the Garden was flooded with protesting letters the day after the fight.

Joe Garza, sensational Detroit welterweight, will return to the Chicago Stadium on the October 18 card in a six round battle with Rusty Cleek of New Castle, Ind. Garza and Cleek will fight in a supporting match to the Charlie Fusari-Tony Pellone 10 rounder. The six rounder gives the Stadium bill its third welterweight fight of the night.

Arlington cross country team loses to both Palatine and Leyden

by RON PRELLBERG

The Arlington Cardinals suffered their second defeat in the 1950 cross country campaign last Thursday, when the locals played host to Palatine and Leyden, who combined their efforts to set the Red Bird harriers back 24-61.

Leyden became the sole profiteers of the triangular encounter by scattering five runners among the first 9 places and thus claiming the victory. This defeat gave the locals a one win and two loss record which the Cards will attempt to redeem when they meet Niles and Waukegan next Thursday on their own course in their second triangular tilt.

Ahons and Solvoy of Leyden along with Hermann and Ury of Palatine paced the 35 man field over the two mile course with the respective showings of 10:15, 10:20, 10:18, and 10:23. Arlington's Don Lockhart for the third straight time headed his mates by sprinting to a seventh in 10:37 while Bryce Meyer and Jack Clark fell into the eighth and twelfth positions.

Stew Meisner followed up with a fourth among the local charges and a fifteenth among all three squads by going the distance in 11:13. Ahons, Solvoy, Diennon, Stewart, and Block contributed strongly to the Eagles victory as did Hermann, Ury, Rogers, Vogt, and Schmidt help prevent a Palatine defeat. Lockhart, Meyer, Clark, Meisner and Prellberg completed the five local positions

Order of finish was as follows:
1. Ahrens (Leyden)
2. Herrmann (Palatine)
3. Salvig (Leyden)

JUST DOGS

by DAVE TERRRILL

Distemper

Distemper has always been a complicated perplexing problem. Despite the fact that it remains today the most important infectious and contagious disease of dogs, it is still somewhat of a mystery.

There has been a decided advantage in using vaccine as a preventive, and on the whole, far more dogs have been spared the destroying and disabling effects of distemper by using vaccines as prevention than would have been the case if such biologics had not been given, but it is generally conceded that not all the methods used today are perfect.

Distempter can assert itself in a number of different ways. It has been seen in unvaccinated dogs and in immunized dogs, in puppies and in dogs as old as seven years. Just as the symptoms and forms of distemper are variable, so are the opinions on the subject.

It has been said that true virus distempter, without secondary infecting microrganisms, is a rather mild disease that runs a definite short course and in which the mortality rate is low. This could be true especially of a given strain of virus in a certain locality, however, it is possible that the mortality rate would increase when dogs are exposed to such conditions as cold, undernourishment or fatigue.

There is still another school of thought which blames the distemper virus for causing any or all of the so called classical symptoms ordinarily paraded under the banner of distemper, and for causing a high mortality rate, even in dogs carefully cared for and nourished.

It will be of interest to people with dogs just what results come from the research work planned by the Cornell Research Laboratory for the Diseases of Dogs and headed by Dr. James A. Baker, professor of bacteriology at Cornell University. Dr. Baker is known for his work in the isolation of viruses from calf pneumonia and from pneumonitis of cats. In an article on the subject of distemper, Gaines Research considers Dr. Baker to be one of the top men in his field and from his work and the work of many others may come the final answer in the form of a complete preventative cure.

How does a virus get around? How does the host respond? Is it a new virus? All these questions and many more will have to be answered before it can be said that distempter is no longer a problem.

Juvenile Jury

Those of you that follow the "Juvenile Jury" program heard over the Mutual network each Sunday from 2:30 to 3:00 p. m. might be interested in the dogs which are to be on the program as "guests" for the month of November. The Samoyed will be on November 5, the Basenji on November 12, the Brussels Griffon on November 19 and the Bedlington Terrier on November 26.

Financial facts for school children on radio Oct. 19

Over 500,000 school children in four states and approximately 200,000 in Illinois will hear explained the facts of banking and the importance of "Savings" Thursday afternoon, October 19, at 1:15 p. m. over Radio Station Prairie-Farmer—WLS.

The special broadcast, "Magic Coins" is one of the "Adventures in Freedom" series of the School Time programs of WLS which have been on the air for fourteen years.

This series of broadcasts written by Josephine Wetzler, Director of Education of Prairie Farmer—WLS won the 1949 DuPont award, one of the most coveted honors in radio broadcasting. Basis of the award was, "outstanding and meritorious service in encouraging, fostering, promoting and developing American ideals of freedom and for loyal and devoted service to the nation and to the community."

THE PROGRAM will feature the exploits of a popular teenage youngster named "Rusty Gordon." All summer long Rusty has been spending his money as fast as he earns it, so, when his bike breaks down and he needs a new one, he is faced with a problem. At his father's suggestion he takes his problem to Mr. Blair, the banker, and learns the secret of "Savings."

The Committee on Education and Public Relations of the Illinois Bankers Association under the Chairmanship of C. A. Hemminger, Director of Public Relations, American National Bank and Trust Company of Chicago, cooperated with Mrs. Wetzler in the preparation of the script for the October 19 broadcast.

Local banks urge the parents of all school children to tune in WLS at 1:15 p. m. Thursday, October 19, in order that they may know the same facts about savings that their children will learn.

Fall planting should begin now, but care must be used

Fall planting gives the home gardener a running start for next year. At this time of the year, home owners can best check over property to see the improvements that should be made. Perhaps a hedge or tree here, removal of the foundation planting, a home fruit garden, or plantings to attract more birds, or improve the outdoor living space so it will be colorful all year long.

Evergreens especially, should be planted at this time. They have had their full growth, and have hardened off, leaving them in excellent condition to move from the nursery.

Fruit trees, their fruits ripening in the fall, likewise extend the weath of color into the cooler months. Not many things are more appealing than a tree loaded with apples, peaches, pears, crabapples or quinces.

Much of next year's garden depends on careful preparations made this fall. Trees, shrubs, and vines should be planted where wanted.

Here are a few hints for more successful fall planting from Dr. Richard P. White, executive secretary of the American Association of Nurserymen.

1. In transplanting, do not allow plants to dry out. If you are delayed during the transplanting, heel the plants in the ground and water them well, until you are ready to put them in their proper places.

2. Balled and burlapped plants should be lifted by the ball. It is not necessary to remove the burlap, just slit it at the top after the ball is set in place. Be sure to dig a hole large enough to hold the ball and allow plenty of soil to be packed around it. The hole should be at least as deep as the plant originally grew. Water liberally until the water soaks the roots and earth completely.

3. Plan shrub and tree plantings to add a combination of pleasing foliage, flowers, such as roses, and berries and fruits to your property from spring through the fall, with liberal use of evergreen for color and contraast the year around.

4. Consult with the nurseryman, who can advise how to adapt planting to the needs of individual property.

FOREST LAND

About one-third of the area of the United States is forest land. Of this, an area of approximately 461,700,000 acres grows, or is capable of growing, commercially valuable timber.

Few returning vets call on VA for relief aid

Less than 20 percent of the veterans and others being called into the armed forces are finding it necessary to avail themselves of the provisions of the Soldiers and Sailors Civil Relief Act for adjustments in their financial obligations, the Illinois Veterans Commission reported today.

A. R. Kays, administrator of the IVC, said reports from the 70 field offices of the commission reveal that businessmen, landlords and creditors are making every effort to work out satisfactory arrangements with inductees who are faced with financial hardships.

The Soldiers and Sailors Civil Relief Act of 1940, which is still in effect, provides protection for persons on active duty and members of their families whose ability to meet obligations has been impaired by reason of a call to service.

Under the Act, a court order is required before anyone can repossess personal property or foreclose on real property which a serviceman is buying on instalments, regardless of the terms of the contract.

KAYS POINTED out that the question of hardship and ability to pay, as resulting from military service, is important in all legal proceedings involving the Civil Relief Act. Also the benefits are not automatically available, but must be applied for by the serviceman.

Wide discretionary powers are granted judges in cases involving servicemen, Kays said, and cases are judged on individual circumstances.

Service officers of the Veterans Commission can advise and assist servicemen or their dependents on matters relative to the Civil Relief Act.

IVC offices are located at 164 N. Marion, Oak Park; 213 Liberty building, Wheaton; 634 Davis, Evanston.

CAMERA TOPICS

FLASH FOR BETTER OUTDOOR NIGHT PHOTOS

The best way to keep memories of summertime fun alive and maintain contact with the new friends you make is through pictures. Make a resolution now to keep your camera handy and loaded with film so you will be able to capture interesting experiences and sights.

Since many parties and activities will be at night, you will want to be able to use flash. It is the easiest way of insuring good pictures without lots of wires, fuss, and guesswork, particularly outdoors. If your camera is not already equipped with flash, you can obtain a suitable unit for a few dollars at any photographic store.

Too many flash pictures are just mediocre because the photographer does not use flash with imagination. The lighting is adequate for correct exposure, but it adds nothing to the mood of the picture.

For example, if you are photographing a group around a campfire, don't be satisfied to just fire a flashbulb from the camera. This will give you a good record shot of the people, but it will not look like a photo made around a campfire. Instead, place the bulb so that its light seems to come from the fire. The result will look like a picture made by firelight and will carry the mood of the event.

Or if your subject is a moonlit scene, place your flashbulb high to simulate moonlight falling on the subjects. The flash should always supplement the natural illumination, not compete with it, except when used outdoors in bright sunshine to fill in shadow areas.

Bunnies to have their day in DuPage county

One thousand rabbits, representing the aristocracy of bunnydom, will compete in one of the state's most important rabbit shows next week in Lombard.

The DuPage County Rabbit Breeders association is sponsoring the show Friday through Sunday, Oct. 13-15, in the Hammersmith building at 9 N. Main st. The public is invited to attend for a small entry fee.

Judging is based on the suitability of the rabbits for food and the quality of their fur for clothing. A style show, exhibiting dresses and sweaters made of rabbit fur will take place Saturday evening. Demonstrations of plucking, shearing and spinning will be given throughout the three-day show.

Many of the types to be shown are seldom seen by the public. They include the Checker Giants —each weighing over 20 pounds —the tiny three pound Polish rabbits, the colorful Champaign d'Argents, with the French coats, and the Angoras and Chinchillas of fur-bearing fame.

Now we have them!

Modern Etiquette

Q. Does a man always light a woman's cigarette first? I've heard that, when using a match, a man should light up first because of the initial sulphur taste from the match.

A. The well-bred man will always light his woman companion's cigarette first, and his male companion's too. If he wishes to avoid the sulphur taste, he can pause a second after striking the match.

Q. How should one eat olives at the table?

A. Unless a special fork or spoon is provided one may take the olive with the fingers. Eat around the pit, then place the pit on the side of the plate.

Q. When two men and two women are dining in a public place, at a square table, how should they be seated?

A. The two women should be seated opposite each other.

Q. Is it good taste ever to sign a social letter "Hastily yours?"

A. Never. It might be necessary at times to write a business letter in haste, but never a social letter. "Hastily yours" implies that you wish to get a bothersome task over with as quickly as possible.

Q. Should a guest always arrive at exactly the specified time, when invited to dinner?

A. A dinner engagement calls for greater punctuality than any other. If possible, a guest should arrive at least 10 minutes before the specified time.

Q. Is the text of a young widow's second marriage announcement worded the same as for a first wedding?

A. Yes.

Q. Do you consider it good manners for one to keep opening and closing his mouth while chewing his food?

A. No. It most certainly is not difficult to keep the lips closed while chewing food, provided the bites taken are of normal size. It reveals considerable ill-breeding when one persists in taking huge mouthfuls of food at a time.

Q. How soon after a visit should a house guest write a "bread and butter" letter,

A. Immediately upon arriving home, the same day if possible. Under no circumstances should such a letter be delayed for a week or more.

Q. In what way should a divorced woman distinguish herself from the second Mrs. James Gray?

A. By prefixing her maiden name to her former husband's surname, as, "Mrs. Helen Smith Gray."

Q. Is it all right for a woman to introduce her husband to a friend of hers as "Mr. Johnson?"

A. It is preferable for the wife to say, "My husband," or merely, "Bob."

Two killed by trains, Park Ridge Franklin Park

Monday was a very bad day for railroad accidents.

First, the north suburban mother of three children was killed when she walked into the path of a North Western passenger train at Ozark and Northwest highway in Park Ridge.

She was Mrs. Jean L. Jeppson, 911 Peale ave., Park Ridge. She waited for a southeast bound train to pass, then apparently walked into the path of a northwest bound passenger train.

TRAFFIC ON the track was tied up for half an hour. The victim's husband is Dr. Philip L. Jeppson, a physician employed by the Teletype corporation at 45 W. Wrightwood ave.

Second death was an 11 year old boy who was struck and killed by the Milwaukee road's Hiawatha train, 30 minutes late on its trip to Omaha. Gerald Ostrowski, of 2823 N. Oak st., Franklin Park, was walking along the railroad bridge over the Des Plaines river at River road and Chestnut st., in River Grove, when he was hit by the streamliner.

A playmate who was with Gerald, Leroy Beltser, 10, 9747 W. Addison, Franklin Park, told police that Gerald's foot caught in the track ties, and that they could not get it free in time. Leroy escaped unhurt.

The young victim was apparently playing hookey from the St. Gertrude Parochial school in Franklin Park at the time of the accident.

Wisconsin Fish Catch

The value of the commercial fish catch in Wisconsin waters of the Great Lakes in 1949 was about $2,000,000, a million dollars less than it was in each of the three years prior to 1946, records of the conservation department show. The drop in value reflects a smaller fish catch and lower prices. The fish catch was valued at $2,600,000 in 1948, $2,300,000 in 1947 and $2,500,000 in 1946.

Way Back When

Our Aim: To Fear God, Tell The Truth, and Make Money

Wheeling center of Masonry over Cook-Lake counties 100 years ago

The history of Vitruvius Masonic Lodge, Wheeling, which celebrated its 100th anniversary last Saturday night as prepared and presented by Harry H. Talcott, of Park Ridge, contained historical data interesting to non-masons as well as members of that order. It is given here in part.

The history of Vitruvius Lodge begins in the year 1849. At that time there were two Masonic Lodges in Cook county, Illinois, Lafayette Lodge No. 18 and Oriental Lodge No. 33.

The nearest neighboring lodges were: Mt. Joliet Lodge No. 42, Joliet; St. Mark's Lodge No. 63, Woodstock; and Union Lodge No. 78, Waukegan.

"In these surroundings seven Master Masons, members of Lafayette Lodge No. 18 and Oriental Lodge No. 33, met and resolved to petition for a dispensation to organize a new lodge at Dutchman's Point in Cook county, Illinois, now known as Niles, at the intersection of Milwaukee ave. and Touhy ave. The names of these seven men are: Joseph Filkins, Thomas Brooks, Douglas Boyd, Silas W. Sherman, William H. Davis, Alexander Brown, and Samuel Anderson.

"THE PETITIONERS asked that the name of the new lodge be Vitruvius Lodge. This choice of name indicates that some one, or more, of the brethren was either an architect or engineer or was familiar with the story of the man whose name was chosen for their lodge.

"Vitruvius lived in the first century, B.C. and was an architect and engineer and was the chief ordinance officer for Julius Caesar, by whom he was pensioned for life for his services to the state.

"This petition was presented to Lafayette Lodge No. 18 and received the usual recommendation.

"A dispensation was granted to these petitioners dated October 4, 1849, on receipt of which the lodge started to work, renting a place to meet at $2.50 per meeting, including light and heat.

"July 20, 1850, while still operating under this dispensation the lodge resolved to move from Dutchman's Point to Wheeling because, the resolution says, they could not find any safe and proper place to meet at Dutchman's Point.

"On September 14, 1850, their petition for leave to move to Wheeling was granted by the Grand Master and a committee was appointed to build and furnish a new hall.

"On October 10, 1850, a charter was granted to Vitruvius Lodge No. 81 by the Grand Lodge of Illinois, meeting at Shawneetown.

"The first meeting under the new charter was held on October 19, 1950.

"Vitruvius Lodge was a 'Moon Lodge,' that is the time of its meeting was regulated by the phases of the moon, the stated meeting being each month on the Saturday on or preceding the full moon.

"This meeting on or before the full moon was a very practical consideration in the days before good roads and rapid transportation.

"FIRST INSTALLATION and dedication was held on February 1, 1851, at Wheeling, Ill.

"Thursday, September 11, 1851, Vitruvius Lodge No. 81 participated with Lafayette Lodge No. 18 and Oriental Lodge No. 33 in the dedication of the Cook county court house in Chicago, the same court house in which the body of Abraham Lincoln later lay in state on its way to Springfield, Ill., for burial. The records show that the lodge made the usual deposits in the cornerstone.

"July 4, 1859, the new hall was dedicated by the Grand Master, Brother Ira A. W. Buck.

"He was attended, as revealed by the minute book, by Apollo Commandery No. 1 and Lafayette Chapter No. 2, R. A. M. and by many visiting lodges.

"The Grand Master, like the Soo Line Railroad, was late, and the ceremony was conducted by Brother Mitchell in his absence. The Grand Master, however, finally arrived and addressed the assembly in a grove near the lodge hall and later in the evening addressed the lodge when it convened.

"In the minute book we find that Vitruvius Lodge met in special communication on July 21, 1862, at Brother Vincent's store in the Town of Vernon, just north of Wheeling, 'for the purpose of paying the last sad respects to our late Brother H. E. York, a former member of this lodge, by the special request of his wife. Brother York died from a mortal wound received on the field of battle in defense of his country, in Missouri.

'The lodge opened on the third degree of Masonry, assisted by Palatine Lodge No. 314.

'AFTER THE USUAL preliminaries a procession was formed and escorted the body to the place of interment. The body was interred in accordance with the ancient ceremonies of the order. The procession was then reformed and proceeded to the church where an appropriate funeral sermon was preached.' "It is interesting to note that the sermon followed the burial instead of preceding the burial.

"All through this first minute book we find that Vitruvius Lodge was constantly assisted by Lafayette Lodge No. 18, the lodge which recommended the issuing of the original dispensation, and Oriental Lodge No. 33.

"Of these two old lodges which sustained and nourished Vitruvius Lodge through the early years, Lafayette Lodge No. 18 surrendered its charter in 1864. Oriental Lodge No. 33 is still active and meets at 32 W. Randolph st., Chicago.

"Vitruvius Lodge was constantly visited by members of Palatine Lodge No. 314, which lodge I think was founded by Brother Filkins, one of the charter members of Vitruvius Lodge.

"All the lodges in the north west part of Cook county owe their origin to Vitruvius Lodge directly or indirectly. From this small beginning has grown a large community of brethren all interested in a common philosophy of life.

"In spite of its humble origin I think I may safely say that Vitruvius Lodge has exercised an influence upon this community fa rbeyond the wildest dreams of any of its founders; and I hope for this lodge a continuation of its usefulness and wish it a long life and a happy future."

Claim tax protest withholdings are very excessive

A taxpayer's suit asking for a court order requiring County Treasurer Louis E. Nelson to turn over to the various taxing bodies $22,000,000 held in a reserve fund originally set up for payment of tax refunds, was filed in Superior court Monday.

The suit was filed by Attorneys Thomas Tighe and Charles Liebman for Albert F. Wilson, the tax payer in whose name the suit was brought.

THE COMPLAINT states that Nelson has no right to withhold the money from the taxing bodies. Under the law, Attorney Liebman said, Nelson cannot reserve funds for this purpose since every year a certain amount of tax money received is set aside for this purpose.

Liebman said that the $22 million goes back to 1932 when the County Treasurer first began putting money aside. Every year a surplus in the treasury has resulted because the amount reserved exceeded that required to settle tax complaints.

THE SUIT POINTS out the inequity of the County Treasurer "sitting on $22 million" when local municipalities are forced to operate on "limited budgets" and to finance "improvements" through tax warrants. The suit also would enjoin Nelson from continuing the practice of adding to this reserve fund.

Nelson said that he was "waiting for a court ruling" and that the money would remain in the fund until such a ruling has been made. The money has been placed with local banks, he said.

Mrs. Church to speak at Palatine Friday

Friday night of this week Mrs. Marguerite Church, the next representative of the 13th district in Congress, will be the speaker of the evening at a meeting sponsored by the Palatine township Republican club at the Consolidated school at 8 p. m.

State Senator Arthur J. Bidwill and other candidates will also speak.

Mrs. Church is thoroughly familiar with the situation in Washington as applies to both foreign and domestic policies and is an interesting and instructive speaker who will have a message well worth hearing.

The public is cordially invited to attend this meeting.

Palatine Democrats to honor Ed Haseman, county board candidate

The Palatine Democratic organization will honor the home town boy, Ed Haseman, who is a candidate for County Commissioner at an Ed Haseman night Wednesday, October 25, at the American Legion hall.

A big evening of fun and entertainment will be on the program.

There will be dancing, refreshments and entertainment, all on the Democratic organization.

Many of the candidates on the county ticket are expected to be present to help the local folks honor their home town boy.

This is the first time in many years that a local man has been honored by either party with a place on the ticket and the home folks are expected to turn out in large numbers on Ed's big night regardless of party affiliations.

Mr. Haseman is a young business man who has come up from the bottom under his own steam.

Going to work when he was a young boy, he has taken advantage of his opportunities until at the age of 37 he is head of the Haseman Trucking Co., vice president of Palatine Motors, has an interest in a stone and gravel business and is interested in several other enterprises.

Ed has always had a lot of home town pride and civic spirit and is always actively interested in community affairs.

As a member of the Palatine park board before moving to his farm, he was instrumental in the organization of the Palatine park district.

He is a member and past president of the Palatine Lions club and always active in all projects of the club. He is vice president of the Palatine Chamber of Commerce.

Ed has always liked to see the young folks have fun and as sponsor of Haseman's Truckers, one of the leading soft ball teams of this area, he has helped to furnish a lot of clean healthy amusement during the summers to players and fans and his team has the greatest fan following of any team in the area.

Yes, it will be a big night Wednesday, Oct. 25, when the home folks pay honor to their home town boy who is a candidate for county commissioner. It's an open house, everything is free and everyone is cordially invited, no matter what their political beliefs may be.

Your tax assessment machinery

Inflated realty values not considered

For assessment purposes, real estate is defined as all land and buildings. Unlike personal property, Assessor John S. Clark points out, real estate is assessed every four years. Personal property is assessed annually.

This means that each piece of property and each building in your neighborhood is evaluated every four years in what is known as the Quadrennial Real Estate Assessment. Assessed values placed on your property do not change the next four years unless the property itself is changed physically.

Errors in evaluations, of course, are corrected.

If your home and lot are evaluated by the assessor at $10,000 in the Quadrennial year, that value remains the same until the next Quadrennial.

However, if you build an addition to your home, or put up a garage, then your local township assessor reports this change to Clark's office, and the improvement to your property is assessed.

The last Quadrennial here, Clark relates, was in 1947. The next will begin on April 1, the assessment date, in 1951.

Clark's first Quadrennial Assessment was in 1935, five months after he took office. When it had been completed and real estate values analyzed, he decided to make all future assessments reflect his newly formed principle of "ability-to-pay."

"The ability-to-pay principle is designed to help the home owner as well as all real estate owners whose business depends on rentals of apartments, offices and home," Clark explains.

"We believe that assessed values should be determined with consideration of a fair return on real estate investments. Evaluations of land and buildings should reflect the ability of the property to earn an income."

A home owner, he relates, should not pay a tax based on a house that cost a premium price. His office does not consider current inflationary buying and selling prices when assessing newly built homes, Clark asserts.

The ability-to-pay principle was tested on some classes of property in the 1939 Quadrennial Assessment. In the following 1943 Quadrennial, the earning power of each one of the county's 1,200,000 pieces of real estate was considered when determining assessment values.

This approach was lauded by property owners and mortgage bankers alike. It was the first time that tax payers received tax bills which reflected the earning powers of their assessed real estate.

As inflationary trends set in during World War II, the ability-to-pay factor proved the wisdom of its application throughout the county.

"Assessed values do not mirror present real estate sales prices," Clark tells us, "because our assessments were based on fair, cash value of property rather than inflated buying and selling prices."

The ability-to-pay principle in assessment was Clark's first contribution toward the improvement of real estate assessments here. His second was assessment of property at full value.

In 1928 it was decided to assess property here at 37 per cent of full value. Because all counties were being systematically under-assessed, Cook, the richest county, bore more than its fair share of the tax. The state real estate tax was abolished in 1936 from local property but, state-wide, the counties continued to under-value their properties.

From 1935 to 1943 Clark strove to bring about assessment at full value. He wanted to do away with the hocus-pocus by which real estate was assessed at some mysteriously arrived at percentage.

The chief stumbling block was lack of uniformity in assessments in counties other than Cook, which of course, had a one-man assessor.

Otherwise, with the exception of St. Clair county which had a Board of Assessors, the other 100 counties depended on 1,400 part-time township assessors who had no standard methods of assessments and over whom there was no central control. It was found, for example, that assessments varied from 15 to 70 per cent of full value.

As Clark fought to achieve assessments at fair, cash value, as demanded by law, he was blocked by the State Legislature which refused to set up the machinery to force assessments at the legal requirement of full value throughout the state.

Finally in 1943, he announced he would assess Cook County at full value regardless of the Legislature's action. This step accentuated the need for the proper kind of assessments so sharply that, in 1949, the Assembly made full value assessments a state-wide law.

(Article No. 6 will discuss the annual farm census, and describe an actual field inspection by the assessor's office.)

Thieves take safe from Barrington store

To get approximately $375 thieves carried out a 220-pound safe from the Hornsby store in Barrington in a night robbery recently.

Barrington Lions loan $2,000 for Legion home

At the meeting last week the Barrington Lions club voted to loan $2,000 to the Barrington American Legion post for the building project that is under way. According to Dr. Albert Galen, Lions club president, the loan is for 2½ per cent interest and is payable in ten years.

Four trailer camps threatened with contempt of court citations

Hearing on contempt of court citations against four suburban trailer camps was continued again Thursday to October 18 by Superior Judge Peter H. Schwaba, when it developed that the Assistant State's Attorney, Martin R. Handelman was too ill to attend the hearing.

Those charged with defying the injunction issued last July by Judge Julius C. Hoffman requiring them to have all trailers off their property by August 21, are: Lorenzo Bellochio, owner of a trailer park on Mannheim rd., one-half mile south of Irving Park rd. in Leyden township; Ruth Ulrich, whose camp is on River rd., one half mile north of Golf rd.; Louis Von Selow, owner of a camp near Higgins and Mannheim rds.; and P. E. Callahan, whose camp is near River and Golf roads.

148 slot machines licensed by U. S. revenue office

More than half of the 33 federal tax stamps on John T. Jarecki's latest list are for slot machine locations in Cook county. The collector of internal revenue listed 18 locations in Cook county. In the list released by Jarecki, none are in north and northwest Cook county.

The latest list brings Cook county's total slot machine locations licensed since July 1 to 148.

THE FENCE POST

QUESTION PALATINE POLICE

It certainly doesn't seem justice that our Palatine Police should patrol U. S. 14 and bring in arrests when the business area is loaded with "Hot Rods" and traffic violators.

Also the local police car and three village street trucks are being driven without 1950 state licenses and the trucks are without current state safety inspection stickers.

I think they should start "cleaning their own back yards," before making a "speed trap" of our town.

C&NW fare increase hearing again postponed

Superior Judge Samuel B. Epstein postponed to Nov. 20 its ruling on the North Western railroad's petition for an injunction as the Illinois Commerce commission promised a ruling on the railroad's request for a 25 percent increase in suburban fares.

Brennan Slater, Assistant general solicitor for the railroad said, "We want action on this petition as quickly as possible. Every day we lose more money."

The injunction sought by the railroad would restrain the Commission from interfering with the North Western's plans to put the increased rate schedule into effect. The order would prevent the ICC from assessing fines or jailing officials of the railroad for defiance of the Commission's order refusing a temporary increase on September 15.

Award Willow road contract

The Illinois highway department has awarded a $134,646 contract to the Standard Paving company of Chicago, for 0.77 mile of concrete pavement on Route 116 (Willow road) from Shermer road about 1 1/3 miles south of Northbrook east to about one mile west of Northfield.

"Lone Ranger" carries on battle against higher phone charges

Harry R. Booth, one-man fighter against higher telephone rates, filed his brief in his case against the Illinois Bell Telephone company, the members of the Illinois Commerce Commission, and Illinois Attorney Gen. Ivan A. Elliott in Circuit court Friday.

Judge Elmer J. Schnackenberg had requested Booth to file the document, so that the phone company could reply to his contentions that the commerce commission "failed to carry out its representations to the public" and that it did not properly grant the phone firm its latest rate increase.

Edens super highway nearing completion

The County board opened bids Oct. 3 for paving a section of Edens Expressway extending from Emerson st. in Skokie to a point 900 feet north of Glenview rd. in Wilmette.

Superintendent of the county highway department reported that a major part of the expressway is completed. This fact was reflected in the board receipt of a bid for the first landscaping work on the expressway for that section extending from Wilmette ave. in Wilmette to a point one-fourth mile south of Dundee rd.

The board has also advertised for bids for construction of the last grade separation on the Expressway at the Lake-Cook county line road.

Demand for marriage licenses remains strong

Saturday was a rainy day in Chicago, but it didn't discourage the cause of true love. County Clerk Richard Daley says that his clerks issued 383 licenses on Saturday despite the rain, 33 more than were issued on the same day of 1949. The figure, however, is 23 less than were issued on the last Saturday of September.

JUST AROUND THE CORNER

Dear Jane:

Cousin Georgia and I started off one day last week in search of a luster tea leaf cup and saucer to replace the one I broke. Remember I told you about that accident, and how important it is that I find another cup to complete the place setting I expect to do for the antique and hobby show here on the 13th?

Well, we came home without the cup, much to my disappointment, but we did make some other interesting discoveries.

In the first place we visited the Green Shutters at Whitewater, Wis.—a perfectly delightful place to have lunch and browse among antiques. I'm sorry that we neglected to go there before, since now we learn the place is for sale. The present owner closes down the first of November, leaving shortly thereafter to manage another place farther north in Wisconsin.

After lunch we went to visit the studio of Leon Pescheret, an English born artist of French parentage, who does beautiful etchings. He lives in a charming place in Whitewater. His studio is in his home, where we saw many examples of his work, which included water colors that he did in Arizona, California, and New Mexico. He is particularly known, however, for his etchings.

We learned that he learned his art from European artists, and was a private pupil of Roger Hebbelinck, famous color etcher. Finishing his continental studies, he went to the Royal College of Engraving in London, England, studying under the guidance of Sir Malcolm Osborn and Robert Austin, R. A.

He has been located in Whitewater since 1936, devoting most of his time to etching, both in color and monochrome. He won the Chicago Society of Etchers' prizes for two consecutive years, and various other prizes throughout the country. He is represented in the permanent collections of the Art Institute of Chicago, the Library of Congress, the National Museum, the New York Public Library, the King's private collection in Brussels, the British Museum in London, and many other private collections.

We spent an unexpected and delightful afternoon in this studio, and I heartily suggest you look up this artist the next time you drive near Whitewater.

We found Whitewater, Wis., to be a small town with a great deal of charm. The homes of many years standing have been restored most beautifully and we were able to enter two of them. In some respects the village reminded me of Geneva, Ill.

On the return trip, we stopped at a farm place, where the farmer really does farming, and his wife sells antiques from their home. His barn was literally filled to the rafters with furniture, which he says he expects to refinish during the winter months when they are "snowed in." The farm land overlooks a small lake at the bottom of rolling hills— a most picturesque spot. We never in the world would have found this place, had we not explicit instructions from a charming elderly lady who sells antiques from her home in Whitewater. The road to the farm is winding down and up small hills, and this farmer and his wife, apparently do not advertise.

I adore trips like this one especially because it is the "unexpected" that leads us on from one place to another, and such a chase is always exciting. "Maybe we'll find what we're looking for at any moment," is what keeps us collectors ever on the search. It's fun, isn't it?

Must close now, and get back to polishing the copper kettles I left on the kitchen sink. I do like "Nevr-dul" for that purpose —it requires so little elbow grease.

With love, Mary.

● ELECTIONS COMING

The big November elections are only a few weeks away and the average mine run of voters is doing a lot of thinking and he has a lot to think about.

The big issue this fall is the congressional elections with state and county contests coming close behind in point of interest.

Are the people of the nation going to elect another Truman congress, or are they going to elect an independent thinking congress that will give a little thought to the welfare of America as well as the rest of the world?

There are a lot of people pretty much disgusted with the Truman "fair deal" policies that are heading this country into state socialism with the government controlling the lives of the people from the cradle to the grave. President Truman even with a preponderantly democratic congress in both House and Senate has failed to put over fifty per cent of his socialistic policies which include socialized medicine, the Truman farm plan and a whole lot more.

That fact shows that even the "rubber stamp" 81st Congress was cautious at times, and on some issues did listen to the folks back home.

The communist coddling of the Roosevelt and Truman administration, which led the United States into a war against communism in Korea and is ready to invite Communist China to a seat in the United Nations, creates a situation that a lot of people are unable to see through.

It's supposed to be a United Nations war in Korea, but who furnished the huge majority of the men, arms and money to fight it? And who pays the bill,—the good old U.S.A.

There are a lot of diplomats of the old world that are perfectly willing to fight communism with the last American boy and the last American dollar, but when it comes to doing something themselves they just aren't there.

The voters are thinking about all this as election nears and they are wondering if it isn't about time to elect a congress that will give some thought to the present and the future of

Modern Etiquette

Q. Does a man always light a woman's cigarette first? I've heard that, when using a match, a man should light up first because of the initial sulphur taste from the match.

A. The well-bred man will always light his woman companion's cigarette first, and his male companion's too. If he wishes to avoid the sulphur taste, he can pause a second after striking the match.

Q. How should one eat olives at the table?

A. Unless a special fork or spoon is provided, one may take the olive with the fingers. Eat around the pit, then place the pit on the side of the plate.

Q. When two men and two women are dining in a public place, at a square table, how should they be seated?

A. The two women should be seated opposite each other.

Q. Is it good taste ever to sign a social letter "Hastily yours?"

A. Never. It might be necessary at times to write a business letter in haste, but never a social letter. "Hastily yours" implies that you wish to get a bothersome task over with as quickly as possible.

Q. Should a guest always arrive at exactly the specified time, when invited to dinner?

A. A dinner engagement calls for greater punctuality than any other. If possible, a guest should arrive at least 10 minutes before the specified time.

Q. Is the text of a young widow's second marriage announcement worded the same as for a first wedding?

A. Yes.

Q. Do you consider it good manners for one to keep opening and closing his mouth while chewing his food?

A. No. It most certainly is not difficult to keep the lips closed while chewing food, provided the bites taken are of normal size. It reveals considerable ill-breeding when one persists in taking huge mouthfuls of food at a time.

Q. How soon after a visit should a house guest write a "bread and butter" letter.

A. Immediately upon arriving home, the same day if possible. Under no circumstances should such a letter be delayed for a week or more.

Q. In what way should a divorced woman distinguish herself from the second Mrs. James Gray?

A. By prefixing her maiden name to her former husband's surname, as, "Mrs. Helen Smith Gray."

Q. Is it all right for a woman to introduce her husband to a friend of hers as "Mr. Johnson?"

A. It is preferable for the wife to say, "My husband," or merely, "Bob."

Two killed by trains, Park Ridge Franklin Park

Monday was a very bad day for railroad accidents.

First, the north suburban mother of three children was killed when she walked into the path of a North Western passenger train at Ozark and Northwest highway in Park Ridge.

She was Mrs. Jean L. Jeppson, 911 Peale ave., Park Ridge. She waited for a southeast bound train to pass, then apparently walked into the path of a northwest bound passenger train.

TRAFFIC ON the track was tied up for half an hour. The victim's husband is Dr. Philip L. Jeppson, a physician employed by the Teletype corporation at 45 W. Wrightwood ave.

Second death was an 11 year old boy who was struck and killed by the Milwaukee road's Hiawatha train, 30 minutes late on its trip to Omaha. Gerald Ostrowski, of 2823 N. Oak st., Franklin Park, was walking along the railroad bridge over the Des Plaines river at River road and Chestnut st., in River Grove, when he was hit by the streamliner.

A playmate who was with Gerald, Leroy Beltser, 10, 9747 W. Addison, Franklin Park, told police that Gerald's foot caught in the track ties, and that they could not get it free in time. Leroy escaped unhurt.

The young victim was apparently playing hookey from the St. Gertrude Parochial school in Franklin Park at the time of the accident.

Protection for Tools

The finish on tool handles supplies attractive color and also protects the handle from rough handling by greasy, gritty, moist palms. It should also keep the box new-looking for a long time.

Tales of the Street

America and its people.

One of the hottest battles of the senatorial campaign will take place right here in Illinois where Senator Scott W. Lucas, majority leader of the Truman congress, is in a fight for his political life with Republican Everett M. Dirksen, former congressman.

Lucas, as majority leader of the Truman forces, is bound to support the Truman policies, yet he comes home to Illinois and talks against socialized medicine and the Brannan farm plan, trying to ride both sides of the fence at the same time and make Illinois voters believe that he is a great independent while all the while he is the Democratic majority leader of the Truman "fair deal" forces and in a final showdown is bound to support the policies of his master though they may lead America into chaos and ruin.

To a huge number of the folks in Illinois all over the state it appears that the time has come to retire Mr. Lucas to private life and to send to the Senate an outstanding American who thinks of America and believes in America, Everett M. Dirksen, the Republican.

The Truman forces realize that their fair-haired boy, Lucas, is in trouble at home and they are bending every effort to pull him through.

The answer to it all rests with the voters in November and particularly it rests on that great mass of voters who are rabidly committed to any party — the great independent vote. (Next week—the County Tickets).

● FROSTS

Well, it looks as if all the experts are at least partially right on all this frost and katydid business.

We have had frosts, white ones and killing ones in some places, while in other places flowers and vegetables are still green and fresh and haven't been damaged.

The frosts last week would tend to make the late Jerry Acree's theory of a frost six weeks after the first katydid call was heard about correct, for the first katydid chirps came along about the middle of August.

On the other hand George Butler's theory of a real "killer diller" that freezes everything 90 days after the first chirp is still good for we haven't had that "freeze everything" blast yet and may not have it for several weeks. It very often happens that after the first frosts we have weeks of beautiful fall weather, and that's just what everyone is hoping for after that chilly summer that had fans at baseball games huddling around in sweaters and overcoats.

● THOSE EMBER DAYS

The old timers who put their faith in the ember day weather predictions are pretty well satisfied with that last batch of ember days.

Nothing of an extreme nature was forecast by those days and the prospects for the three fall months to be pretty seasonable and reasonable look very good, say the old timers who are wise in the ways of that long distance forecasting business.

● HELD UP

The township tax collectors are making the "pay off" of the second installment of the 1949 taxes to the various taxing bodies and now it really shows up just how bad all those tax protests really did hurt the taxing units.

In some of the more populous townships hundreds of thousands of dollars were held up to protect tax protests and, in the less wealthy townships enough money was held up to seriously affect the operations of the different governmental units.

In Palatine township, for instance, the following taxing bodies suffered severely from the following amounts held up because of tax protests: Consolidated School District 15 — $14,950; High School District 211 —$4,200; Town $1,180; Road and Bridge $680; Village of Palatine —$5,210; Village road and bridge —$175; Barrington District 4— $400; Arlington Heights High School District — $210; Palatine Park District—$490. A total of $28,115 was held in reserve by the county collectors to protect various tax protests against property located in Palatine township.

Filler Serves as Base

A paste wood filler is a compound supplied in the form of a rather stiff paste for filling the grain of hard woods, so as to provide a level, non-absorbent surface for varnishing. The compounds consist usually of finely powdered transparent or translucent mineral substances, ground in a special type of varnish. They are applied by brushing and, after setting and before hardening, the surplus is wiped from the surface of the wood

● LONG SEASON

After all it's been a long growing season this year despite wet weather in the early spring that delayed plantings and dry cool weather in the summer that seemed to be holding back the development of the crops.

But here it's getting along toward the middle of October and folks seem to be pretty well satisfied with the year's results. The farmers got some good crops —some of them unexpected when the late planted oats yielded much better than anyone looked for and the late corn is having a good fall season to ripen up.

The gardeners too did all right, and Walter Schinkowsky, who brought in that whale of a cabbage head, wasn't the only gardener who got some fine products. Bill Gaare brought in some potatoes and beet specimens that you couldn't beat anywhere and that luscious peach from the Thieman garden looked like it had come from the heart of the peach country of Georgia or Southern Illinois.

Yes, the farmer and gardener had a pretty good season after all and now they are planning for next year.

● CLEANING UP

The election lists are undergoing a real renovation.

For the last couple of days the registrars who worked during the final registration day Tuesday have been checking over the entire voting lists of each precinct and revising them so they will be as up to date as possible.

Year after year efforts have been made to clean up those lists. The election boards have turned in the names of thousands of persons who had died or moved and yet every list that came out contained the names.

This year the county clerk says it's going to be different, that the voting lists that come out before the November election are going to be as nearly correct as is possible, and if this is finally done it will be a blessing for the election boards and the political workers of the precincts who won't have to be plowing through a lot of dead wood and hunting for a lot of voters who are dead or have moved away. Everyone is hoping that those new lists will be somewhere close to right at least.

● WARMING UP

The action in preparation for the big November election is booming around these parts. The workers of both parties have been busy trying to get everyone registered and the Republicans open this campaign with a mass meeting Friday night at the Palatine consolidated school, where Mrs. Marguerite Church and State Senator Bidwill will be the headliners.

The Democratic organization comes right back October 25 when they honor Edward Haseman, candidate for county commissioner with an Ed Haseman night where there will be dancing, refreshments and a chance to meet the big guns of the county ticket.

Yes, things are warming up.

THE MAILMAN'S CORNER

BY LELAND ELLIS TRUXELL

Every once in a while I meet one of those individuals who are always forecasting a dismal, unhappy future. Tomorrow the world is going to end. Tomorrow the atom bomb will be dropped. Always looking for trouble, always fearing the future and worrying about it, these people should be leading a dreadful life. Some of them do, but others seem to get a sort of sadistic pleasure out of it.

One of the wisest persons I know of is a little lady whose philosophy is to live each day as it comes. Oh, she looks into the future of course, but without fear. She saves money in September to do her Christmas shopping in December, saves money in January to pay her taxes in May. But she doesn't worry about it. Nothing worries her, even heaven and hell. "The Good Book says 'only believe', and I believe," she says quietly.

Someone once said "Cowards die many times before their day —the valiant never taste of death but once." Maybe this isn't the exact quotation, but it is close enough. It is in anxiety, worry and fretting that we die again and again before our time.

Anticipation is at once a great boon and a handicap, depending upon the way we direct it. Things we plan for are seldom as fine as we imagine them so that often some of the pleasure we look forward to is missing. But if we lose a little of the enjoyment of things we eagerly anticipate, there is at least a greatly compensating factor in that things are seldom as bad as we anticipate their being, either.

About the only thing I know of that tastes as good as one thinks it will judging from the odor is ham and eggs. And one of the things that can be much worse than anticipated is an encounter with a skunk.

Thus there are exceptions to the rule of anticipation. But it is a consoling thought that things are almost never worse than expected and most things we worry about never happen. The lesson we learn by discovering that things are not as good as we anticipate is not to anticipate too much.

Correct anticipation consists of thinking over what might possibly come your way in the future, and if things appear good, helping them along, or if bad, making arrangements to forestall, escape or overcome them. It means using our intelligence, good judgment and the law of averages to meet misfortune. It means taking a realistic view of the future and adjusting ourselves to each situation which may arise so that it will turn to our advantage. It doesn't mean to worry or fear the future, to be overwhelmed by misfortune or disappointed because our dreams do not turn out to be as rosy as we planned.

In the future

Cutting a stencil by means of photography rather than by laborous typing, promises to save work and time. For original work, typing will still be necessary, since you can only photograph that which is present in typed form, but a new machine called Stenafax will be useful where it is desired to reproduce as many as 10,000 copies of an original office form, layout, or engineering drawing . . . A switch that automatically cuts power when tractors reach unsafe "tilted" angles has been developed by Minneapolis-Honeywell Regulator Co. When tilted past a "safety angle," mercury in the switch is dislodged, causing the tractor motor to stop. The driver can restart the motor, bring the tractor back to safe position . . . A toothbrush that delivers its own flow of water through a hollow handle to the bristles, using a rubber tube attached to the faucet, is on the market.

Wilson School Community News

The regular monthly meeting of the Wilson School PTA will be held Friday evening, October 13, at 8 o'clock, following the ham dinner which will be served from 5:30 to 7 p.m. Reservations for the dinner have been pouring in, and a good crowd is expected. All are cordially invited to stay for the PTA meeting, at which time plans for the Christmas Bazaar will be discussed.

Shirley Mae Thorsen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Thorsen Sr., was united in marriage last Saturday to Michael McDonald, son of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick McDonald of Prospect Heights. The ceremony took place at St. James Catholic church at 11:30 a.m., and was followed by an open house at the Thorsen's home. A reception for 200 guests was held at the Rob Roy Country club in the evening. A full account of the wedding appears elsewhere in this paper.

The Ladies of Arlington Knolls met October 4 at the home of Mrs. Amann and plans for a Community Christmas Party were discussed. The ladies also suggested a grab bag for their December meeting. The next meeting will be held November 1 at the home of Mrs. Burr.

Dick Schwertfeger left last Friday for North Dakota to spend a week duck hunting.

The first change of shifts at the school will take place October 30 when the lower grades will start at 12:15 p.m. and the upper grades will begin at 8 a.m. Keep this date in mind so that the children will arrive at the proper time.

Another new pupil was enrolled in school this week. She is Ruth Helwig, formerly of Des Plaines, and now living in Pinegate. She is in the fourth grade.

School will be in session on Columbus Day, but the children will have a free day October 23, due to a teachers meeting which will be held in Evanston.

Miss Paulus will attend the Arlington Area Teachers meeting Thursday evening at the high school. She is treasurer of the association.

HOBBIES Yours and Mine

BY BETTY AINSLIE

Antiques and antique collecting is one hobby that holds interest for thousands. Women seem to be the leaders in this field, but a good many men are just as interested as their wives in restoring the old furniture that mamma discovers at auctions.

Miss Margaret Johnston at 319 Park Place in Arlington Heights has quite a collection of Victorian pieces that she's inherited or gathered for a number of years.

"I LIKE VICTORIAN pieces because I enjoy the more ornate things rather than the plainer Early American antiques," she said and added, "but maybe it's because I was given this love seat and a pair of chairs which started me out on my furniture collecting."

Miss Johnston is a nurse but has spent her time the last few years caring for an invalid father, so hasn't had the time to add to her collection recently.

Possibly you saw the Hobby Show a year ago and noticed the authentic Victorian living room on the stage of the show. This room was the work of Miss Johnston. She used pieces from her own collection and borrowed others from friends to put together this charming room that she had seen pictured once in a Chicago paper. In 1948 Miss Johnston helped out the Hobby Show and their plans for an old village store by loaning many many things she has collected.

"WHILE I WAS nursing," said Miss Johnston, "I had the opportunity of being in some of those lovely old Lake Shore homes and a number of pieces I now have were gifts from former patients."

Trips into Canada started Miss Johnston on a glass and china collection too, and she has some lovely cups and saucers, all sorts of pitchers and beautiful old plates and sparkling colored glass.

Heavily framed pictures, and authentic marble topped tables—plus the lovely crystal lamps that she has converted to electricity makes up an attractive living room in her own home.

"Mom accused me of getting this house," Miss Johnston grinned, "because it had such a mammoth basement, a huge attic and a big barn, so I'd have a place to store all the stuff I've been gathering. Gracious I've more trunks and boxes and pieces of furniture stuck away in these places. Things I plan to do over or fix up one of these days."

MISS JOHNSTON is very pleasant. An interesting person to talk to as she pointed out a pewter teapot she declared really started her collection of antiques.

Her father had brought her the teapot from a trip to England when she was a little girl and Miss Johnston has treasured it ever since.

Original samplers that she has framed and furniture she has refinished herself are part of the fun of having the hobby of antique collecting she said.

An unusual chair is in the entry hall of her home. It is an original Victorian piece — sorta resembles the curved seat Caesar usually is pictured seated upon —anyway craftsmen made only one of a kind of these.

Miss Johnston at the moment has a main interest in seeing tnat Arlington Heights attends the performance of The Chordmen, a versatile quartette sponsored by St. John's Episcopal church Evening Guild at Arlington Heights high school on the evening of October 19.

THIS GROUP has been with Wayne King's orchestra and on TV, and this popular quartette sings everything from popular, barbershop, to semi-classicals and spirituals, so it is a real opportunity for us all to see and hear these singers. Miss Johnston has an extra special interest in this organization too as her nephew is one of the members.

Well I spent an interesting couple of hours talking about antiques and seeing beautiful glass and china that Miss Johnston has collected— and say one of these days I'm going back to see some of the old time gowns and other numerous collections she has tucked away in the attic, the basement and the barn.

Kells urges vote in favor of Gateway amendment

If voters of Illinois will take the trouble to mark their ballots on the Gateway Amendment, the amendment will pass, says George D. Kells, Democratic candidate for County Treasurer.

Ald. Kells discussed the Gateway Amendment in an address to the Worth Township Women's Regular Democratic Club in Brandt's Dugout, 5131 W. 95th st., Oak Lawn.

The Gateway Amendment, like all other amendments to the state constitution, requires a majority of all voters who appear at the polls in order to carry. A failure to vote on the question is, in effect, a "no" vote.

"If the people take their blue ballots and mark them and give them back to the election judge, this Gateway Amendment will probably pass," said Ald. Kells.

"If they don't mark their ballots, then next time we try to amend the Constitution we had better offer every voter a free set of dishes to mark his ballot and return it.

"Everybody is for the Gateway Amendment. Nobody is against it. Both major political parties are supporting it. The only thing that can lick it is inertia."

Des Plaines oil plant step nearer completion

The way was opened Monday to permit Universal Oil Products co. to build its multimillion dollar plant near Des Plaines.

By unanimous vote, the Des Plaines City Council passed an ordinance setting up a special Scientific Research and Development classification for the more than 50 acres the Chicago concern plans to buy and annex to the city. It is located on the northwest corner of Mt. Prospect and Algonquin rds.

A Universal official said plans are progressing toward acquiring title to the land, petitioning for annexation, and building on the property. Architectural plans will probably be started in the near future, he said. Requirements of the bill meet Universal's requirements.

The company expects to build a research plant eventually employing 600 with an annual payroll of about $3½ million.

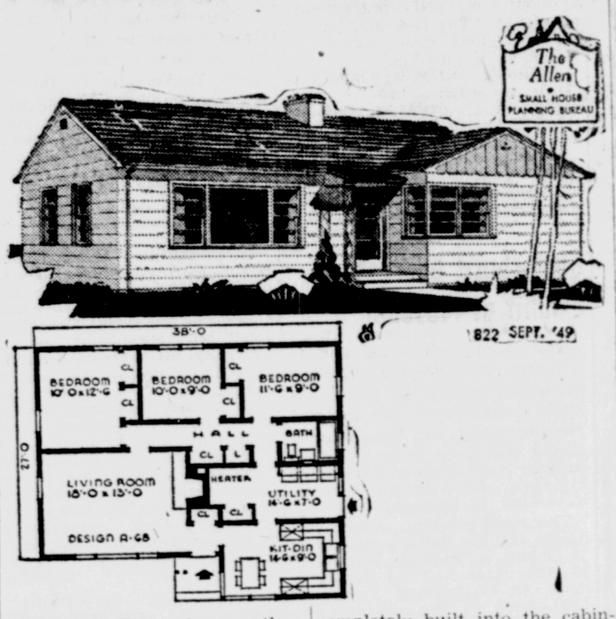
New ideas for that home



THE ALLEN is basementless, with the floor slab, easily adaptable to linoleum or other composition flooring, laid directly on a gravel fill. The heating plant and laundry equipment are in a utility room which replaces a basement.

Plumbing, for the bathroom, and laundry equipment is in the same wall. Location of the fireplace makes the same chimney available for the heating unit.

Storage space is liberally allowed for in The Allen. Wardrobes are provided for in each of the three bedrooms, and closets are planned for the front entrance and utility room. A general closet and linen cabinet are in the bedroom hall.

The exterior walls are shown to be of frame with wide siding. But, concrete blocks can be used as a substitute. The roof is covered with asphalt shingles.

The kitchen of The Allen is modern with cabinets and equipment arranged in a U-shape. The sink is under the window and the refrigerator and range are completely built into the cabinets.

Dimensions of The Allen are 38 feet by 27 feet with an area of 1,110 square feet and a volume of 13,320 cubic feet.

For further information about THE ALLEN, write to Small House Planning Bureau, St. Cloud, Minn.

Chicago Symphony concert next week

Rafael Kubelik pays tribute to Frederick Stock in the program he has arranged for the second pair of concerts of the 60th Season of the Chicago Symphony Orchestra on Thursday evening and Friday afternoon (October 19 and 20) at Orchestra Hall.

The season's first soloist, Boris Christoff, new Metropolitan Opera basso, will make his Chicago debut at these concerts, singing arias from Moussorgsky's "Boris Godounoff," in which the Bulgarian singer made his reputation in Europe.

The program also includes the American premiere of a new symphony by Vittorio Rieti, now a resident of Chicago; and the Mozart E Flat Symphony, which has never before been played by the orchestra.

The two Mozart symphonies are brief and were written when Mozart was 17. Kubelik believes they are entirely unlike most of Mozart's works and that Mozart returned to this kind of expression only at the end of his composing, in his G Minor String Quartet and his Requiem. The G Minor and E Flat Major symphonies, Kubelik says, "are wildly dramatic and tragic—expressions of inspiration.

Bible picture lectures to open Sunday at Des Plaines church

An illustrated address, "Living With the Bible in Palestine," will open a ten-week course on "The Story of the Bible," Sunday evening, October 15 at 7:30 p. m. in the First Methodist church of Des Plaines, according to Rev. Theodore Potter, pastor, formerly of Palatine.

The course will be conducted by one of America's foremost young Bible scholars, Dr. John C. Trefer, a member of First Methodist.

Dr. Trever, world renowned traveler in the Holy Land, is an expert photographer and plans to use others of his 3,000 color slides in several of his addresses during this course.

In February, 1948, while acting director of the American School of Oriental Research at Jerusalem, Palestine, Dr. Trever had the privilege of examining a second century, B. C., scroll of Isaiah and other documents among a group of scrolls brought to him for study by a Syrian Orthodox Archbishop. This was the first in a series of archeological discoveries that have since been called the most important in modern times.

In view of past experiences, Dr. Trever's course at First Methodist promises to be not only instructive but highly interesting as well. Some topic titles are "How Came the Old Testament," scheduled for October 29; "How Came the New Testament," scheduled for November 5.

Gettysburg address exhibit at Museum

The Chicago Historical Society is urging Chicago-area clubs and employees groups to make advance arrangements for day and evening visits to the Society luring the "four score and seven year" anniversary exhibit of Lincoln's Gettysburg Address, November 19 through 30.

The rare exhibit, valued at half a million dollars, will open at 12:30 p. m. Sunday, November 19—the exact hour of the ceremony in Gettysburg, Penn., in 1863—with all five copies of the Gettysburg Address in Abraham Lincoln's own handwriting on display. Supplementary exhibits will dramatize the Battle of Gettysburg and will furnish contemporary comment on the nation's reaction to Lincoln's speech.

Many favorites in cast of '3-Cornered Moon'

When the Des Plaines Theatre Guild presents the comedy "Three-Cornered Moon" by Gertrude Tonkonogy, in the West Room at Rand Park Field House, October 20-21 many local favorites will appear in the cast, including Patricia Dolinski, Jack Fankhauser, Robert Erickson, Phyllis Kurtz, Jim Hughes, Edward Sauer, Alicia Hasek, Charles Hasek, and RoseMary Hanley.

In presenting "Three-Cornered Moon" as the opening production of the 1950-51 season the Theatre Guild has chosen a comedy about the delightful "imperturbable" Mrs. Rimplegar and her household of mercurial children have their prototypes in any community. The doctor is a man known intimately and as for Donald the author, every village has one or more.

In the Rimplegar home Miss Tonkonogy shows how love abides amidst continual flashes of excitement. The line between tranquility and uproariousness is indeed a slender one in the Rimplegar household.

Tax facts

Attention, Illinois housewives! Here are some real bargains:

Butter at 15c a lb.; cheese, 7½c a lb.; dry peas, 2c a lb.; dried eggs, 5c a lb.; and canned meat, 5c a lb. These are some of the bargains which, we are advised by Tax Foundation in New York, your federal government is offering in an effort to unload its approximately 300 million pounds of surplus foods, mostly bought to hold up prices you're now paying.

But these bargains, we regret to report, are not for you. These products, valued roughly at 100 million dollars and bought by Uncle Sam with your taxes and mine, are available to foreign countries only. Uncle Sam, it is estimated, will realize only 14 million dollars if he unloads all these bargains abroad . . . and he'll probably loan our tax money—and be lucky if he gets it back—to the foreign countries to take advantage of these bargains. We're contributing more to charity than any of us dream, and we can't deduct these contributions for income tax purposes either.

The 30 million lbs. of Mexican canned meat offered at 5c a lb. were acquired when the U. S. and Mexico tried to stamp out hoof-and-mouth disease below the border. This meat cannot legally be sold in the U. S. market, but it cost the U. S. (that's US) more than 30c a lb. —and not even one meat ball do we get.

Although all this surplus food is on hand, and Congress was recently asked to appropriate 50 million dollars just to get rid of it, none of it can go to the Army, for instance. So, in addition to spending millions to buy this food in the first place, Mr. and Mrs. Taxpayer must also foot the bill for the $2,508,267 which the Army spent for butter in June alone, and the $1,900,000 for eggs, etc.

The Illinois farmer, represented by the Illinois Agricultural Association, is not to blame. The IAA has long been trying to inject some common sense into this nonsense.

Who is to blame? Every Illinois housewife, every Illinois taxpayer, and that means every Illinois citizen, is to blame who hasn't let their Congressmen know in no uncertain terms that Uncle Sam can't have guns AND butter, tanks AND pork barrel projects, weapons AND waste . . . not unless we are going to lose the war at home that we are winning abroad.

Now is our opportunity. Our Congressmen, our State legislators and our local officials are entering the stretch in the election race. Now is our chance to find out which ones will give us our money's worth in return for our votes.

October 9 is D Day on the home front. It's the last day for registration. If you aren't registered, you can't vote.

November 7 can be V Day on the home front—provided taxpayers go to the polls to vote for those men and women who, regardless of party, will give us our money's worth in local, state and federal government.

Anthropologist studies sex in a changing world

Margaret Mead has written a factual and challenging book Male and Female. She has examined the contemporary American way of life against background of seven primitive cultures, pointing out the problems of our civilization with an anthropologist's objective eye.

She has written a book that is readable for the layman. Unlike the Kinsey Report and other volumes, for the professionals dealing in tables and scientific language, this volume is full of cultural details easily understood.

If it is hard to assimilate, it is due to the mass of evidence accumulated and presented; a difficulty which subsequent readings would solve.

There are many implications for the modern mother inherent in her descriptions of primitive environments. I have always heard that the first year in a baby's life is the most important, but I have never quite understood why. As Miss Mead describes the various ways the natives treat their newborns—such as the manner of carrying, suckling, teasing, playing—and accept or reject their role of parent, she shows the basic conditioning of these youngsters.

As she describes the kind of boys and girls and men and women evolved from their homogeneous pattern, the effect of these various attitudes on the infants becomes clearer. She also discusses the development of boys and girls when both are treated in a like manner as infants and shows how they react when they are expected to show their masculinity and femininity at a later date.

A large section is devoted to contemporary American sex practices. Starting with the birth of the baby and its earliest life in a formula and germ-conscious environment, she carries her study through the childhood and adolescent stage, with especial emphasis on the long dating period and into marriage with its attendant problems of housing and divorce.

Miss Mead has written an excellent evaluation of our culture, giving fresh and mature judgments on our way of life and pointing to ways in which we can work out our difficult problems.

Accidents more deadly than any disease

Accidents kill more young people than any disease!

Here are the figures for 1948, just announced in the 1950 edition of "Accident Facts," the annual statistical yearbook of the National Safety Council:

	Death Rate per 100,000 Population
1 to 4 years:
Accidents	41
Pneumonia	22
Congenital malformations	13
5 to 14 years:
Accidents	25
Heart disease	4
Pneumonia	3
15 to 24 years:
Accidents	55
Tuberculosis	17
Heart disease	9

In the 1 to 14 age group alone, accidents claimed 10,741 lives—more than the combined toll of pneumonia, congenital malformation, cancer, tuberculosis leukemia, aleukemia and heart disease. In this same age group, accidents caused 10 times as many deaths as polio in 1948.

Can now send for new license plates

Secretary of State Edward J. Barrett today announced that application blanks for 1951 vehicle license plates are now available to the public.

Application blanks have been delivered to newspapers, city halls, notaries public and currency exchanges.

The Secretary, in announcing that applications would be available, reminded applicants that November 1 is the deadline for applying for reassignment of present license numbers.

Barrett stated that over the counter sale of plates would start in Chicago December 1 and urged Chicagoans to avail themselves of the speedy "cash and carry" plan to save them the trouble of sending their applications to Springfield for processing.

Future livestock outlook good says producer

Meat supplies should be plentiful for the coming year, reports H. M. Conway, market analyst for National Live Stock Producer, a trade publication. "Stability and probable improvement in economic conditions coupled with plentiful feed supplies should give assurance and encouragement to the live stock industry for maximum meat production," Mr. Conway states.

"Increased employment and an advance in commodity values has put meat and live stock prices upon a high level. The present wartime basis is expected to further increase the demand for meat, marking live stock values fully supported during the next 12 months.

"CONSIDERING live stock numbers, there is practically a record supply of roughage and feed grains with late fall and winter pasture prospects quite favorable. There will be an abundant supply of relatively cheap corn which will assure a favorable feeding ratio and justify maximum weight gains in grazing and finishing areas.

"A generally steady stocker and feeder cattle market is expected during the fall. Apparently there will still be a substantial advance in prices of best cattle from the feedlot this fall but it will come later than usual and result in a stimulated demand for feeder cattle.

"The cattle feeder seems justified in utilizing any available supply of soft corn as well as making use of roughage during the winter season. Quality cattle are expected to be protected for the summer market with lower grades supported for spring marketings, putting all cattle in strong hands.

"THERE HAS BEEN some upswing in hog production which assures a moderate increase in the fall and winter pork supply. Major change has been in higher lard prices and increased demand for heavier cuts of pork. The uptrend in demand will offset much of the effect of seasonally increased marketings during the fall and give added support to prices during late winter and early spring. Additional corn supplies will also provide a still more favorable feeding ratio.

"A very short fall supply of feeder lambs is indicated as a result of the turning point in the sheep production cycle. Restocking of breeding herds will continue to hold lamb slaughter low this fall, which is the reverse of the past decade when flock liquidation kept the market supply relatively large. Lamb values also have been supported by a higher wool market, which, with favorable feed prospects, justifies full finishing of the feeder supply."

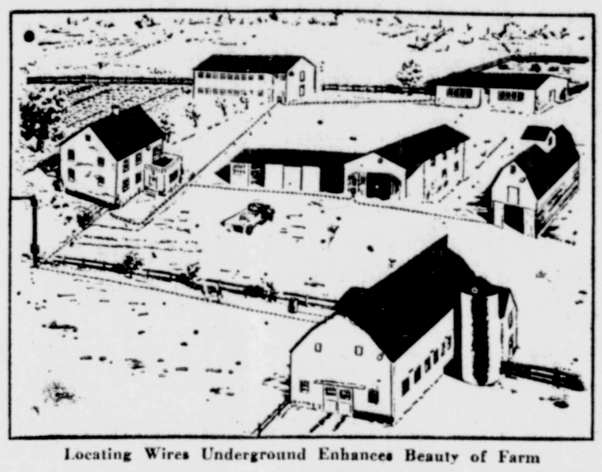
Wiring System Placed Underground

* * * * * * * *

Recommendations Are Given for Installation



Locating Wires Underground Enhances Beauty of Farm

By IRA MILLER
Farm Electrification Bureau

Underground wiring, as shown in the above illustration, may be used in place of overhead wiring between buildings as well as for the service connections to the power line. It may be used with pole metering, outdoor or indoor metering for service conductors.

Here are some of its advantages: It is more permanent, costs less per year to maintain because of its extremely long life, can not be damaged by sleet and windstorms and adds to the beauty of the farm since it elminates poles and overhead wires.

The common types of conductors, recognized for use in wet locations (Type RW Wire, Type TW Wire) and lead covered cable, can be used for underground wiring. If installed in metallic or non-metallic conduits. Special types of cables also can be used underground without conduit.

For direct burial, the required number of single conductor cables (or multi-conductor cable) are placed in a single narrow trench 14 inches or more in depth and covered with earth fill. Type USE Cables can be placed in metallic or non-metallic conduit at spots where it may seem advisable to provide additional protection. Where the cable must be run up a pole, it should be placed in pipe, or conduit, as shown above, for a height of at least 8 feet up the side of the pole. It may be desirable also to provide additional protection where the cable is placed on the side of a building, such as for outside metering on the side of a house.

For bringing the cable through the foundation of a building, it is recommended that it be run through a piece of conduit or pipe placed in the foundation. In such cases, the cable should be wrapped with tar or some other non-hardening calking compound, stuffing it snugly into the conduit or pipe. This provides a tight seal and prevents seepage into the building and the formation of ice in the opening in cold weather.

It is advisable to provide a certain amount of slack in the cables by making a loop or "U" shaped bend in the cables adjacent to the foundation. This allows for shifting of the foundation and upheaval of the ground where there are conditions of deep frost.

Ammoniated dentifrices reduce tooth decay best two year test shows

A definite trend for the usefulness of ammoniated dentifrices in reducing dental decay was reported by researchers at the University of Illinois College of Dentistry.

Results of a two-year study involving 716 grade school children in Peoria showed that an ammoniated toothpowder is more effective in reducing decay activity than a non-ammoniated dentifrice. Preliminary findings of the study have been published in the October issue of the Journal of the American Dental Association.

The study was undertaken in Peoria for the purpose of testing proper oral hygiene and ammoniated and non-ammoniated dentifrices under severe conditions of use. It is believed to be the most comprehensive test of its kind ever attempted.

THREE TYPES of dentifrices were used. One was a dentifrice containing the cleaning agents that are commonly used in dentifrices. A second was a so-called ammoniated dentifrice which contained five percent ammonium phosphate and three per cent carbamide. These ingredients are used for the purpose of stimulating and fortifying a natural decay protective mechanism that is depressed in the majority of mouths because of high sugar consumption.

The third dentifrice was similar to the second but with bentonite. The bentonite, a colloidal clay, was added with the possibility that it might prolong the retention of ammonia on the teeth.

Results of the use of these three dentifrices were compared to a control group which were allowed to brush the teeth according to the usual habits. These children did not participate in supervised classroom brushing.

Children in the three dentifrice groups brushed their teeth at their desks at the beginning of the classroom study each morning and afternoon. They also were asked to continue the brushing after each evening meal at home. Brushes and six tons of toothpowder were provided by the University for the study.

A CLINICAL and x-ray survey of all children by the Illinois State Department of Public Health and the University of Illinois at the end of the two-year study indicated that those who used the ammoniated dentifrice without the bentonite experienced the least dental decay. The percentage of teeth attacked in this group was 20.5 per cent less than for those children in the control group who brushed their teeth according to their usual habits.

The non-ammoniated dentifrice was less effective. Youngsters who used this toothpowder had 9.3 per cent fewer cavities than the control group. This non-ammoniated dentifrice was prepared according to a formula approved by dental authorities.

Increase profits by feeding more proteins

A University of Illinois farm management specialist pointed out that most farmers can increase their profits from livestock by feeding more high-protein feeds.

M. L. Mosher makes that statement after studying the 10-year records for 1936-45 on 200 north-central Illinois hog farms.

The 60 farms with highest returns averaged 11 pounds of protein feeds per 100 pounds of grain, and they earned $170 for every $100 worth of feed fed.

The 60 farms with lowest returns averaged only 9 pounds of protein feeds for every 100 pounds of grain, and they earned only $134 per $100 worth of feed. The farms feeding more proteins therefore had a $36 advantage in feed returns.

MOSHER SAYS the idea of increasing livestock profits by feeding more protein feeds also applies to other kinds of livestock. Many successful livestock farmers have balanced their hog, dairy, and beef cattle rations by using high-protein pastures, he adds. And they've bought much less hgih-protein feed than other men who had no high-protein pastures or who used them poorly.

Some high-protein pastures are alfalfa; Ladino, sweet, and red clover; rye for early spring; and lespedeza in the southern half of the state. More and more bright alfalfa hay is being ground or fed loose to hogs and poultry during the winter. On some dairy and beef cattle farms, well-preserved alfalfa silage has reduced the need for purchased protein concentrates.

Four tips given to get best buys in cattle

Four tips to help you make a good buy in feeder cattle this fall were given today by a livestock marketing specialist in the Illinois College of Agriculture.

W. J. Wills says to avoid making an unfortunate purchase you should know quality, watch weighing conditions, avoid stale cattle, and be sure of the reliability and integrity of the seller.

These four points, says Wills, were mentioned most often by 123 cattle feeders in eight counties when they were interviewed in 1949 about their buying methods.

These feeders say if a man does his own buying it's especially important that he know quality well enough to get the animals at a fair market price. Avoid "counterfeits" and "ringers." The ability to pick "good doers" is all-important.

In addition, they say, buyers should know where the cattle were weighed, whether they they were weighed full or empty, and whether the scales were accurate. If pay weights were used, it's doubly important to know weighing conditions. Discounts can make a big difference in profits.

These 123 cattle feeders also advise not to buy stale cattle. No cattle from any source are immune from this condition, but it happens most often when cattle are moving in small numbers. Calves seem to go stale quicker than larger cattle.

Finally, the feeder told Wills, you can't overemphasize the importance of dealing with a reliable seller. This is the only way you can be sure that cattle are as represented, the weighing conditions are fair, and that there will be few stale calves.

Farmers planning to attend IAA annual meeting

Many Illinois farm folks are already making plans to attend the annual meeting of the Illinois Agricultural Association to be held in the Hotel Sherman, Chicago, Nov. 13, 14, 15, 16.

Approximately 5,000 farmers and their wives are expected to attend the four-day session in Chicago.

This will be the 36th annual convention of the IAA, the state Farm Bureau organization with 176,500 farm families as members.

Also holding their yearly meetings at this time will be the 19 affiliated companies of the IAA.

One of the highlights of the annual meeting will be an address by Allan B. Kline, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation.

Carelessness causes corn casualties here

A bumper crop of corn picker accidents will be harvested by Illinois farmers this year — unless they are more careful than usual.

That was the prediction made by Floyd E. Morris, chairman of the Illinois Farm and Home Safety Committee and vice president of the Illinois Agricultural Ass'n.

"Carelessness is the chief reason farmers have corn picker accidents," Morris said. "Every farmer knows a corn picker is a dangerous machine, but when they get in a hurry, they forget that fact.

"They also forget," he continued, "one rule that should always be remembered by farmers when they're working in the corn fields:

"NEVER TRY TO unclog, adjust, oil, grease or clean a corn picker while it is running!"

Forgetting this rule cost 10 Illinois farmers their lives in corn picker accidents last year, Morris said. More than 80 others suffered temporary injuries from pickers. Some 75 more were left with permanent marks of disability.

Morris urged farmers to be especially careful this year while harvesting the eight million acre corn crop in Illinois because picking conditions will probably be worse than usual.

This is true, he said, because (1) since corn was planted late this year, corn husking time will come later because farmers will be in a big hurry to get the corn out of the field; and

(2) it will probably be rainy by the time most farmers get around to picking corn and mud always adds to the hazards of such farming operations.

"Following these rules can save lives, money, and human suffering," Morris said. "Let's be careful."

Big yields from soil treatment; good crop rotation

A University of Illinois agronomist today reported some strong evidence that it pays well to follow a good crop rotation and soil treatment plan.

L. B. Miller says the 1950 wheat yield at the Dixon soil experiment field in Lee county hit 62 bushels an acre. These plots were treated with limestone, rock phosphate, and potash. Untreated plots in the same field yielded only 30 bushels an acre.

The 4-year average wheat crop reached 46 bushels an acre on treated land compared with 28 bushels an acre on untreated plots. The average Illinois yield is about 25 bushels.

These extra large yields came from a 4-year rotation of corn, oats, red clover, and wheat with a legume catch crop. This rotation supplied needed organic matter, because either crop residue or manure was returned to the soil.

Miller points out that this rotation provides two legume crops and a crop to hold your soil during the winter and early spring.

Another lesson learned from the Dixon field results is that you don't have to plant corn after every legume in your rotation.

TCA kills quack grass in only one treatment

An easy way to control quack grass with only one treatment was explained by a University of Illinois authority.

Weed control specialist Fred Slife says that TCA, a new chemical weed-killer, will wipe out quack grass completely with only one spray treatment applied this fall. The spraying would replace repeated cultivations, diskings, and other mechanical methods formerly used to eliminate the weed.

Quack grass spreads by underground roots. Slife recommends shallow plowing or thorough disking to expose the roots and then spraying 50 pounds of TCA per acre directly on the roots.

Two big advantages of this method are that one treatment should wipe out the weed, and the chemical breaks down easily in the soil and will all be gone by next spring so that you can plant a crop then.

It takes 100 to 125 pounds of TCA to eliminate quack grass if you do not expose the roots before spraying.

TCA costs 40 cents a pound, which is fairly expensive. But Slife says it's the easiest way to kill off quack grass. And you usually find the weed in patches smaller than one acre.

Lauffenburger enters fall litters in Duroc sow-testing program

John Lauffenburger, prominent Duroc breeder of Palatine, has entered 5 fall litters of purebred Duroc pigs in his breed's official sow-testing "PR" program, according to word received from B. R. Evans, Secretary of the United Duroc Record Association, Peoria.

"PR" or Production Registry, as the official testing program is named, is now being followed by all major hog breeds and is based on weights of litters at 56-days to test both the production and suckling ability of the breed sow as well as the gaining ability of the nursing pigs. Extensive statistics prove that heavier 56-day weights mean heavier 180-day weights and are of interest to all farmers desiring seed stock from "officially tested" strains of faster growing purebred hogs.

Breeding group to show cattle at Bull barn, route 20

Dairy farmers throughout northern Illinois will want to make plans to attend the Open House of the Northern Illinois Breeding Co-Op to be held at the Bull Barn on Thursday, October 19. The Bull Barn is located on Route 20 about eight miles northwest of Elgin.

At this Open House approximately 100 daughters of the bulls in service will be on display to show the results of ten years of dairy herd improvement that has been accomplished by the artificial breeding program started in 1940 by farmers of Lake, McHenry, Boone, DeKalb, Kane, DuPage, and Cook counties.

DUE TO THE accomplishments in developing daughters of association sires that have high average production, improved type and greater value, the service has been expanded until today technicians are breeding cows in 39 counties in northern Illinois.

One new outstanding bull will be "Butter Boy" recently proven an outstanding sire. Twelve daughters of "Butter Boy" have an average mature equivalent on twice-a-day milking, 305 day lactation basis of 15,283 pounds of milk and 534 pounds of butterfat or an increase of 2,349 pounds of milk and 72 pounds of butterfat more than their dams. The mature equivalent average production of the dams was 12,934 pounds of milk and 462 pounds of fat.

The records of the twelve daughters were made in six different herds where the last DHIA herd average was 413 pounds of fat.

Dry-wall taking place of plaster during strike

"The differences between the employing Plasterers and the Lathers Union, equivalent to a protracted lathers strike, is placing home builders in the middle of a controversy where they, not the trades involved, are, as usual, holding the bag and taking the loss," said Martin C. Huggett, Executive Vice President of the Chicago Metropolitan Home Builders Association.

"Large number of homes are daily reaching the plastering stage and are standing idle waiting for the settlement of differences, which after 30 years or more of peaceful operation, have suddenly become insurmountable," said Huggett.

"While the builders are taking no sides in the controversy except in the promotion of efficiency, economy and the prompt dispatch of work, it appears to be necessary to decide upon some definite action to complete the jobs on hand and avoid similar trouble in the future.

"WE STRONGLY recommend to those builders who are in a position to do so, to carefully consider the use of Dry-wall Construction, utilizing gypsum boards in such a manner as will comply with the Chicago Code, the building regulations of Cook and DuPage counties and all of the suburbs in and out of those counties.

"Dry-wall Construction is not a cheap substitute for lath and plaster as many have been led to believe and its use in the Chicago area is sufficiently prevalent so that any artificially created sales resistance is now broken down. It is appearing at present as a "de luxe" finish in many of the most expensive homes. To our knowledge no builder who has once adopted Dry-wall has ever returned to the use of wet plaster.

"IT ELIMINATES the injection into kiln dried framing of some two tons of water which has a tendency to warp and twist otherwise straight and true framing.

"Its usual form is one layer of ½ inch gypsum board or two layers of 3/8 inch, one cemented to the other, with open joints filled and taped. The secret behind good results is straight and true stud walls, accurate and sound nailing and smooth joint filling and taping.

"Carpenters apply the board to the studs, but plasterers have been locally awarded the jurisdiction of cementing the second layer, filling the joints and taping."

Palefaces watch out

Things are going to be rough for palefaces in the near future, Secretary of State Edward J. Barrett. state librarian, predicted.

Illinois youngsters, in their school work, in their clubs and other organizations, are making such a thorough study of American Indians that their first raid —on the Illinois State Library— has practically exhausted the library's collection of books, recordings and other items pertaining to Indians, he said.

Presenting the Younger Generation

Average Child

This pretty miss is the brown-haired, blue-eyed daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Warkentien, 520 N. Eastwood, Mt. Prospect. She is four year old Karen Warkentien.

"Karen is an ordinary child, is playful and likes to read and play records," described Mrs. Warkentien when giving a thumbnail sketch of her only child. "She will attend Sunday school soon and we are planning to have her start dancing school in the spring," continued this mother.

This youngster's paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Warkentien of Dover, Ark., are visiting the family at the present time. They are former residents of Des Plaines. Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Rose of Park Ridge are the maternal grandparents.

Brown-Eyed Julie

Photogenic Julie Busing is the three and one-half year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Busing, 314 N. Lincoln Lane, Arlington Heights. Besides this friendly smile, Julie has light brown hair, dark brown eyes and an intense fondness for vacations.

"She loves vacations," said Mrs. Busing, "and is looking forward to a trip to Texas which we are planning to take in several months." Like most little girls, Julie also likes to play house with her girl friends, wheel her doll buggy and play out of doors.

Peppy Pair

Pictured next are the active young sons of Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Holtz, 138 N. Ashland, Palatine.

First is 18 month old Johnny with brown hair and brown eyes. Busy following in his brother's footsteps, he can now identify various things readily, stated his mother.

Two and one half year old Tommy's brown hair, brown eyes and happy smile make it easy for one to tell that he and Johnny are brothers.

"They are active fellows and keep me on the run," laughed Mrs. Holtz. Avid train enthusiasts, they never go riding without insisting on seeing a "choo-choo." All of the boys' picture books contain train pictures and they never tire of playing with their miniature train cars.

Sand box activity, a favorite of the boys, has now come to an end much to the disappointment of Johnny and Tommy.

Their maternal grandmother, Mrs. R. C. Hanke resides with the family. Mrs. Albert Holtz of Dundee is the paternal grandmother.

Vets can regain rank at O'Hare field base

Former enlisted men of any branch of the service may now be enlisted in the Air Force Reserve in their grade held before discharge, and assigned to one of the choice openings with the 441st Troop Carrier Wing, Reserve, according to Col. John S. Gulledge, commanding. Men, between the ages of 17 through 34, with no prior military service, excepting those classified 1-A under the Draft Laws, may also apply for enlistment with the 441st. The 441st is Chicagoland's crack Troop Carrier Wing which trains one week-end or two Sundays each month at O'Hare International Airport, just outside Chicago.

There are openings in all departments, but men are especially needed in aircraft and motor vehicle maintenance, medical, supply, administration, air police, and food service. The assignment of Reservists to these select fields will be made as men apply for enlistment with the Air Force Reserve for training with the 441st Troop Carrier Wing, Reserve. Col. Gulledge emphasizes that before a man is accepted, he will know at what grade he is enlisting and what job he will do.

The Recruiting Office is open daily, including Sundays, from 8 a. m. to 4:30 p. m.

Art workshops open

What was once a loft, unoccupied for forty or fifty years except for two horse-drawn carriages, has become the Contemporary Art Workshops, opening Monday, October 16, on Armstrong Court (near Chicago ave.) just off Michigan.

Evening and Saturday classes are offered in painting, ceramics, jewelry making, sculpture and drawing for those who enjoy a workshop atmosphere where they can experimentally develop their own ways of creating under informal guidance.

Registration will be at Contemporary Gallery, 733 N. Rush st., from October 4 to October 16, 9 a.m. to 10 p.m. Inquiries may be address there or by telephoning WHitehall 4-8141.

Bits o' business

Predictions are being made by economists and retailers that the public will be in a more cautious buying frame of mind for the next few months. Some sign of tapering off in war scare buying has already been detected . . . Some of the biggest price gains recently have been in textiles, while food prices conversely, aided by big crops, have been tapering a little . . . Manpower shortages for the months ahead are expected to become more acute.

Who Runs America?

the Congress? the President?

OR YOU AND THE MAN NEXT DOOR?

RUNNING AMERICA is the joint job of 150,000,000 people. It's the biggest job in the world today —keeping it running for liberty and for freedom. And the whole world's watching to see whether Americans can do it!

IN MUCH OF THE WORLD today, the people have resigned from running their own countries. Others have been quick to step in—first with promises of "security"—and then with whips and guns—to run things their way. The evidence is on every front page in the world, every day.

FREEDOM COMES UNDER ATTACK. The reality of war has made every American think hard about the things he's willing to work and fight for—and freedom leads the list.

But that freedom has been attacked here recently—just as it has been attacked in other parts of the world. One of the most serious threats to individual freedom has been the threat of Government-dominated Compulsory Health Insurance, falsely presented as a new guarantee of health "security" for everybody.

THE PEOPLE WEIGH THE FACTS. In the American manner, the people studied the case for Socialized Medicine—and the case against it.

They found that Government domination of the people's medical affairs under Compulsory Health Insurance means lower standards of medical care, higher payroll taxes, loss of incentive, damage to research, penalties for the provident, rewards for the improvident.

They found that no country on earth can surpass America's leadership in medical care and progress. They found that able doctors, teachers, nurses and scientists —working in laboratories where Science, not Politics, is master—are blazing dramatic new trails to health for Americans—and for the world.

THE "GRASS ROOTS" SIGNALS CONGRESS. In every community in the Nation, people stood up to be counted on this important issue. Thousands of local women's clubs, civic groups, farm, business, religious, taxpayer, medical, educational and patriotic organizations spoke out—giving the great United States Congress its unmistakable Grass Roots signal from home!

And ever watchful, ever sensitive to an alert people, The Congress saw that signal, and heard the people speak out, loud and plain. That's democracy in action. That's the American way!

Today among the 10,000 great organizations on militant public record against "Compulsory Health Insurance" are:

- General Federation of Women's Clubs
- American Farm Bureau Federation
- National Grange
- Veterans of Foreign Wars
- National Conference of Catholic Charities
- American Protestant Hospital Association
- American Legion
- National Association of Small Business Men
- United States Chamber of Commerce
- National Association of Retail Grocers
- National Retail Dry Goods Association
- American Bar Association

• Doctors of this Nation are grateful that the people refused to be wooed by the fantastic promises of this un-American excursion into State Socialism. • Doctors of America are dedicated to serve their fellow citizens at home and their comrades in uniform, wherever service to this Nation may take them. • And the thing they stand ready to fight for—to sacrifice for—to die for—is not the alien way of life of Socialism, but the prideful security of a free and self-reliant people!

THE VOLUNTARY WAY IS THE AMERICAN WAY!

• Throughout the Nation, free men and women, working and planning together, are finding the American answer to every question of medical service, care and cost. Hundreds of Voluntary Health Insurance Plans are in healthy competition—sponsored by doctors, insurance companies, hospitals, fraternal organizations—by industry, agriculture and labor. • Today in America—70 million people are protected by Voluntary Health Insurance! • Throughout the Nation, families are insuring themselves against the major costs of illness—at reasonable, budget-basis prices. Voluntary Health Insurance takes the economic shock out of illness. Protect your family now. • For information, ask your doctor—or your insurance man.

An American's greatest heritage is the right to learn the facts—and to speak his mind. Maintained with honor and used with sincerity—that right will guarantee forever that
